Supervisors Pass Milder Ordinance On Splitting Lots

West Marin Protests Action But City Managers Back Law

By FRANK FARRARA

Marin County supervisors yesterday passed a new, milder lot-split ordinance repealing the one they adopted as an emergency measure last October.

During a hearing that ran almost three hours, the ordinance was opposed by West Marin residents and backed by city managers.

The ordinance is primarily designed to cover urban unincorporated areas, but applies countywide. It requires improvements when any parcel less than 10 acres is split into fewer than four lots. (Subdivisions of four lots or more are covered by another ordinance and, in part, by state law.)

Under the new ordinance, effective in 30 days, the planning director will determine what improvements are required. His decision can be appealed to the planning commission and its decision can be appealed to the supervisors.

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer called the new ordinance a vast improvement over the emergency one.

He said he felt the planning staff would use its judgment in rural areas. "I'll holler loudly if they insist on a 12-inch gutter in Inverness," he said.

Attorney Bryan McCarthy, representing West Marin land owners, presented a petition containing about 300 signatures asking repeal of the emergency ordinance.

He admitted the new ordinance is better, but said it still places "a burden that was not there before." He sought assurances the county will not require "absurd conditions."

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said everyone agrees "there is a need for lot split control, but the acreage split is controversial."

The ordinance is aimed at urban areas near cities, said Supervisor William A. Gnoss. "I don't think the planning staff will require in rural areas, such things as curbs and gutters."

Oliver Hofmann of Point Reyes Station said the ordinance is unnecessary and "is aimed at the small property owner who can't afford an engineer and a lawyer." He also claimed there has been a building slack in Marin since the emergency ordinance was passed "and the natural growth of Marin slowed."

Frank P. Myer of Point Reyes Station said "the existing subdivision ordinance covers the situation entirely, if enforced," and a new ordinance is not needed. "The climate of Point Reyes is quite clear," Supervisor Peter H. Behr said. "You don't like it."

City Mgr. Charles A. Brown of Sausalito told of the problems that developed in Sausalito before the city passed a lot split ordinance. He told of lots without water, roads, utilities or fire protection.

Cities are concerned about development in unincorporated areas because they may become part of the city, Brown said.

J. Julien Baget, Novato city manager, said the lot-split ordinance will save "thousands of dollars." The general taxpayer has to pay for deficiencies that

NWP's Bid For Allies Rejected

Plea of Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co. for allies in its effort to abandon its Sausalito branch met deaf ears last night with the Sausalito City Council voting 4-0 in reaffirmation of its longtime stand for continued rail service.

Councilman Eleanor O'Hara Chapin was absent.

Councilman Melvin S. Wax said facts "clearly show" there are Sausalito firms still dependant on the railroad. His contention was backed by a Sausalito Chamber of Commerce communication that of 35 businesses polled, 30 opposed abandonment.

Robert Lowry, speaking for A. G. Schoonmaker Co. and American Distilling Co., told the council much of Sausalito's industry was established because railroad service was available.

Randolph Karr, attorney for NWP and its parent Southern Pacific Co., declared however that high land values in the Sausalito area make is unlikely that more carload (railroad business) industries will locate there.

He said carload business last year was less than a car a day, and predicted an even sharper decline.

If the railroad is forced to remain, he declared, much money must be spent, and Sausalito will be "saddled" with the branch line not just a few years, but "30 or 40 years" at least.

The railroad presently has applications before the Interstate Commerce Commission to abandon the branch, from Sausalito to a point about seven miles away and just east of Highway 101.

Viet Troops Hit Pro-Red Demonstration

Pentagon Revealing Less Information On Air Strikes

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAIGON— Seventeen hundred persons demonstrated in favor of the Communist Viet Cong yesterday in Binh Minh Province 300 miles north of Saigon, it was disclosed today. Government troops broke it up by shooting and killing one agitator and arresting 10.

In Saigon today, police broke up a news conference called by the Cao Dai religious sect to announced still another plan to make peace with the Viet Cong. It was the fourth attempt in less than a month in Saigon to organize a peace movement.

BOMBER STRIKE

The Binh Minh demonstration occurred in the village of Phu My 25 miles northwest of the provincial capital of Qui Nhon. It was here a military spokesman said B57 jet bomber strikes had broken the back of a Viet Cong offensive.

The official Viet Nam press news agency said the demonstrators from several villages in the area were marching in four columns on Phu My when government troops met them at the edge of town and opened fire on the leaders.

In Washington, Arthur Sylvester, the Pentagon's information chief, has confirmed that the government is giving out less information on air strikes against North Viet Nam.

"We are giving in round numbers the strike aircraft," he said in response to a newsman's questions Tuesday. But no longer, he said, are details being released on the number of support planes which accompany them for reconnaissance and rescue and to suppress antiaircraft fire.

LAOS RAID

Also, Sylvester said, cooperation is being sought from news correspondents to handle their reports so as to limit danger to American fighting men in Viet Nam.

U. S. jet fighter - bombers apparently raided Communist areas in Laos again today, dropping more than 20 tons of high-explosive bombs.

More than a dozen planes, including six F105 fighter-bombers, took off from the Da Nang air base on a secret mission. They flew west, in the direction of Laos, where U.S. Air Force jets have made repeated raids on Communist supply lines in recent weeks.

The F105s returned to Da

Scientists Seek Relics Of Drake's Anchorage

By RICHARD LYTTLE

A methodical search of Drake's Bay that could turn up relics of Sir Francis Drake's visit there in 1579 has been launched by the Council of Underwater Archaeology.

The search for relics is only part of the project, but it is a fascinating part for John Huston of San Francisco, president of the council.

Fifteen divers, archaeologists arrived at Limantour Spit last weekend to begin the job. They had with them a new magnetometer developed by Varian Associates of Palo Alto.

A magnetometer, adjusted so its instruments line up with the earth's magnetic field, records deviations caused by nearby metols. Varian Associates' model is reputed to be 50 times more sensitive than previous magnetometers, Huston said.

A prime goal in the Drake's Bay search is to test this new device. Varian is co-sponsoring the search and scientists from the firm are taking part.

Huston said the group also hopes to be able to run a grid plot of its findings and accurately superimpose it on a grid of the area. This will require careful survey work.

Huston said it is possible that some relics of Drake's landing might show up. The group also hopes to find remains of the wreck of the Spanish ship, St. Augustine, which went on the beach at Drake's Bay in a storm in 1595.

When metal is indicated on the magnetometer, the site will be buoyed, and divers go down to investigate. The electronic device can be carried in a boat or pulled underwater from a boat.

The group, able to work only on weekends, will use the Golden Hinde Boatel in Inverness as headquarters for the search. Huston said the work will continue through the summer and into the fall.

There will now be no work for several weekends, because the magnetometer has been sent to Europe for tests, Huston said.

The Council of Underwater Archaeology, formed 10 years ago, is an adjunct of the University of Pennsylvania Museum. It helps coordinate underwater archaeology, working particularly to preserve relics for their historical significance.

Five years ago the council assisted in organizing exploration off the Turkish coast that brought to light a Bronze Age wreck and a Byzantine wreck. That exploration work is still going on, Huston said.

The council has also organized archaeological conferences and has published one book,

King Leads New March For Vote

Alabama Police Helping

COMBINED AP & UPI

MONTGOMERY, Ala.— Integration leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. today led more than 1,500 persons in a march on the Montgomery County Courthouse to protest attacks on civil rights demonstrators.

"We are marching nonviolently to freedom," said King as he, his aides and white and Negro clerymen stepped to the head of a long line that had been forming for more than an hour.

EIGHT ABREAST

The white and Negro demonstrators linked up eight abreast with their arms linked. Police blocked off part of the street to allow the demonstrators to form their ranks.

City police apparently planned to cooperate with the marchers. Asst. Police Chief D. H. Lackey said he would "do anything to relieve the tension" in regard to racial demonstrations here.

"If the demonstrators want to march down to the courthouse, I'll take them down there," Lackey said as a crowd of about 500 gathered in front of a church for the march.

PROTECT THEM

"If they want to march to the capitol, I'll take them down there. I'll protect them, block off the streets and sing and pray with them. I'll do anything to relieve the tension."

A similar protest march was scheduled for Selma, 50 miles away, where Sheriff James G. Clark told civil rights demonstrators today they could march three abreast to the county courthouse.

His announcement over a loudspeaker in front of Browns Chapel A.M.E. church drew a chorus of cheers and yells from

Football's Famous Amos Stagg Dies

STOCKTON (UPI) — Amos Alonzo Stagg, 102, the "grand old man" of college football, died today.

Death was due to the infirmities of old age.

The legendary athlete, coach and sports leader died at Hill Haven Convalescent Hospital. He entered the home in 1962 and had been in failing health.

Stagg was the only man honored as both a player and a coach in football's Hall of Fame.

Stagg was an active football coach for 54 years, spending 41 of them at the University of Chicago where he turned out some of the nation's great teams and developed such storied gridders as Walter Eckersall, Jay Berwanger, H. O. Fritz Crisler, Wallie Steffan and Pat Page.

In 1932 he reached the retirement age of 70 at Chicago and was offered a departmental job. He declined and moved with his wife, Stella, to California, where he made College of Pacific into a headliner.

Lagunitas Board Asks Second Tax Hike

Lagunitas School District, which on March 9 won voter approval to continue a $2.65 general operating tax rate limit, plans to go back to the voters June 8 to ask that it be hiked to $2.85.

Trustees unanimously agreed last night to call the second special tax rate election within three months.

The same voters are being asked to approve a $200,000 bond issue and $300,000 state loan on April 20 to provide a second school.

Supt. Marshall J. McCunniff said approval of the increase, bringing the maximum for general fund tax from $2.65 to $2.85 per $100 assessed valuation, would permit the district to buy or lease three portable classrooms.

If the proposal is defeated, the district will be faced next year with double sessions in at least two grades, he said. The board is trying to free the multipurpose room, now occupied by two classes, for general school use.

It was not certain last night if the election could be called in time for June 8.

The 20-cent increase would be asked for a two-year period, McCunniff said, with hope that a new school would be available after that time.

Total district tax now is $3.34, which includes 24 cents for bond interest and retirement and 45 cents for overrides, including retirement funds and community service.

Trustees heard but took no action on a teacher request that the district pay a portion of hospital insurance in lieu of a salary increase next fiscal year. The board asked more specific information on the request.

Trustees discussed publicity for the April 20 bond and loan election.

Next meeting will be April 6.

Marin Eyes Motel Room Use Tax Idea

Marin County could collect about $8,000 a year if it levied a four per cent tax on transient room occupancy, according to County Administrator Alan Bruce.

He reported to Marin County supervisors yesterday that there are 20 motels in the unincorporated area drawing about $200,000 a year from transient room rental.

A four per cent tax on these rooms yield about $8,000 a year.

He noted that Assemblyman Nicholas Petris, D-Oakland, has introduced a bill authorizing a four per cent tax levy on room occupancies of less than 30 days.

Bruce suggested that the county might enact its own room tax ordinance, or wait and see whether Petris's bill passes and whether collection by the state would be preferable to local collection.

He said expenses of collection would be high compared to the revenue gained.

Supervisors postponed decision for a week because of the absence of County Treasurer-Tax Collector Stanley J. Fontez.

Marin Councilman, Clerics Are Heading For Alabama

Five Episcopal clerymen from Marin and a Mill Valley city councilman will soon be traveling to back the Negro right-to-vote campaign in Alabama.

Councilman Albert E. White will join Rev. D. Murray Hammond, rector of Church of Our Saviour in Mill Valley, and Rev. Llewelyn A. White, rector of St. Stephen's Church in Belvedere, in a flight to Birmingham, Ala., tomorrow.

They hope to see Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace and urge his support for civil rights. Later they will go to Montgomery and Selma.

"We don't expect to be demonstrating because the demonstrating is pretty sporadic now," Father Hammond said.

Later the three will go to Washington to talk with congressmen, especially those from the South. They will be in a group led by Suffragan Bishop Richard Millard of the Episcopal Diocese of California.

Three other Episcopal clergymen from Marin, Rev. John Riley, rector of St. Paul's Church, San Rafael; Rev. John Thornton, rector of Christ Church, Sausalito, and Canon William Beale of Terra Linda, a member of the diocese staff, will go with Bishop James A. Pike to Washington Sunday to talk to southern congressmen. They expect to come home Tuesday.

Meanwhile a committee of students at San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo, was formed to support the civil rights movement and sent $250 to the Southern Christian Conference for Selma residents as the first step in programs of aid.

Detroit Widow Stages Human Torch Protest

DETROIT (AP) — A German-born widow wanting "to call attention to the problems of South Viet Nam" by "the illuminating death of a Buddhist" turned herself into a blazing torch on a Detroit street corner last night.

Novato Offered Picnic Area As Stafford Lake Park Site

If the Novato City Council follows through on action taken last night by the North Marin County Water District board, Novato will have a public park at Stafford Lake this summer.

The water district board approved transfer of operation of the Lions Club park at the lake to the City of Novato.

For the past eight years, the water district has leased approximately six acres below the treatment plant to the Lions Club as a picnic area. The club has constructed facilities including picnic tables, rest rooms and a road.

Edward W. Adams, city director of parks and recreation, said he is making a study of the cost of the city to operate this as a park.

Millard Miles, president of the Lions Club, said: "The city is trying to get a park system going. We felt that this one was already established and wanted to donate it to the city with the concurrence of the water district."

Republican Wins Senate Post

REDDING (AP)—Republican Fred W. Marler Jr. narrowly upset Democrat Jack Halpin in a special state Senate election yesterday.

Marler's victory puts the state Senate lineup at 25 Democrats, 14 Repbulicans and one vacancy left by the recent death of Sen. Samuel R. Geddes, D-Napa.

Gov. Brown needs at least 27 Democrats, or two thirds of the Senate, to pass his $4.03 billion budget.

Marler was leading Halpin 10,184 to 9,465 with seven precincts containing only 150 registered voters yet to be counted.

Marler, a Redding lawyer, is the first Republican state senator elected since 1936 from the Fifth District, which covers Shasta and Trinity counties.

Irish Fete Patron Saint, Sound Hopes For End To Partition Soon

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Ireland celebrated St. Patrick's Day today amid real hope that old enmities are dying and that national unity is coming closer.

At this traditional time of national stocktaking, the emphasis everywhere was on moves to end the cold war that for more than 40 years has raged between the rival governments of the Roman Catholic south and Protestant Northern Ireland.

Sean Lemass, prime minister of the southern republic, set the keynote in his St. Patrick's Day message to Irishmen at home and abroad.

Outstanding among developments of the past year, he said, were the talks which have opened between his government and that of the northern six counties, which still are part of the United Kingdom.

"It is my hope that, pending the reintegration of the national territory, action taken following these discussions will nullify many of the material disadvantages of the partition of Ireland as well as helping to bring nearer the day of reunification," Lemass said.

Muir Woods Ranger Ends 40-Year Career

Lawson H. Brainerd, a shy ranger with a way with people, has retired from his position at Muir Woods National Monument, thus ending 40 years of government service.

During the four decades, he worked for Uncle Sam in the Navy, as a timber scaler, with the Post Office Department and with the fish and wildlife service.

Asked what he will do on retirement, Brainerd replied, "I have many plans. I am anxious to see how many of them I can do."

Brainerd, who retired Saturday, has been stationed at the national monument since 1942. He began government service as an apprentice seaman with the Navy in 1918 at Goat Island (now Yerba Buena Island).

He then went to Nevada City as a fire guard and timber scaler, soon followed by promotion to forest ranger, assistant district ranger and, in 1924, to district ranger in charge of Big Pine-White Mountain district of Inyo National Forest at Bishop.

In 1929 he homesteaded at Merrill, Ore., raising grain and some stock. During this period he worked in game management for the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and, for three years, worked for the Post Office Department.

He entered the National Park Service in 1938, working at Lava Beds National Monument in Siskiyou and Modoc counties as a ranger. In 1938 he came to Muir Woods. In 1958 he was promoted to supervisory park ranger, a position he held until retirement.

In this job he planned, organized and directed protection and maintenance activities at the monument.

Brainer and his wife, Helen, live at 228 Cleveland Avenue, Mill Valley. They have a daughter who lives in Carmel, and four grandchildren.

Marin Farm Irrigation Plan Urged

EUREKA—Development of irrigated agriculture in Marin County is one of the uses foreseen for a large reservoir at Knights Valley in Sonoma County proposed in a speech yesterday by Robert J. Pafford Jr., regional director of the United States Bureau of Reclamation.

Pafford urged the construction of the reservoir as part of a basic plan for flood control in Northern California in a speech to the Eureka Chamber of Commerce water resources committee.

He said immediate construction of the reservoir to its ultimate capacity would make possible "early development of irrigated agriculture" in Marin and other counties to be served by the reservoir.

The reservoir would have a capacity of 1,600,000 acre feet (an acre foot equals about 326,000 gallons). It would be made by construction of dams at Franz and Mayacama about 12 miles north of Santa Rosa near the Napa-Sonoma County line.

The reservoir would also be able to fulfill municipal and industrial as well as agricultural purposes in Marin and other nearby counties.

The reservoir would hold surplus water from the Russian River and would also be a storage point for flood waters of the Eel River, Pafford said.

"Diving Into the Past," a collection of articles and speeches.

Huston said if any discovery of historical significance is made in Drake's Bay, "I can assure you we will not announce it."

He explained that an announcement would bring hordes of amateur divers who would carry off relics. This is exactly what the council tries to prevent. News of any discoveries will come after exploration is over.

Those taking part in the Drake project include Sheldon Breiner, Robert McNaughton and Lee Langan of Varian Associates; Robert Love of General Electric Corp.; Walter Gillfillen, a civil engineer at University of California, Berkeley, and Mrs. Louise Berge and Mrs. Marian Sagan, council research assistants.

The council has other research projects going. One with Corning Glass is intended to investigate "rings" of wear which could conceivably show the age of glass.

ROBERT W. GOLCHER
New job for Hub City

Building Aide Appointed By Hub Council

Robert W. Golcher of Fairfax was selected last night as new building inspector for the City of San Anselmo.

Golcher, who is 44, worked in the county building inspection department for about five months ending last October. Previously he was associated with William J. Clyde in Clyde Building Associates of San Anselmo, builders of A-frame houses. He also has worked as estimator for several general contractors in the county. He lives at 87 Monte Vista Road, Fairfax.

The new building inspector will start at $530 a month, taking over inspection duties formerly performed by City Engineer Richard A. Sypher.

He was chosen for the job after being interviewed by San Anselmo City Council members in a closed session last night.

Nang with their bomb racks empty.

No major action was reported today on the military front but the commander of the U.S. 7th Fleet told newsmen American planes were poised to bomb the north on a once-a-day basis. The Communist capital of Hanoi was reported bracing for air raids.

Of more concern to authorities was the spread of peace movements in the south and the fear this could lead to a slackening of the military effort.

The Cao Dai is a 40-year-old religious sect which claims three million members but probably has one million. It has a history of armed rebellion against previous Vietnamese government but at present it supplies many anti-Communist fighting men to the army.

Its peace plan calls for withdrawal of all Communists from South Viet Nam, imposition of a U.S. military cordon to prevent infiltration until peace is restored and eventual withdrawal of American troops. Officials said the sponsor of the plan had been arrested.

Earlier peace plans got a chill reception from the government. One plan launched by Saigon professional men called for an immediate cease-fire. Three of its leaders have been condemned to exile in North Viet Nam as soon as the government decides how to send them there.

In Australia, the Sydney Mirror quoted former South Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Xuan Oanh as saying three Vietnamese intellectuals who organized a previous peace campaign had been pushed out of a plane without parachutes over North Viet Nam last Monday).

Yellow Tag Days Starts Tomorrow

San Anselmo merchants will open a three-day city-wide sales event tomorrow with the slogan, "If it's got a yellow tag, it's a bargain."

San Anselmo Yellow Tag Days has become a semi-annual event under sponsorship of the Novato Chamber of Commerce.

"Merchants are putting their best merchandise on display at carry-me-home prices," Richard Silvey, chairman of the chamber's retail merchants committee, said today.

Advertisements of Yellow Tag Days bargains appear in a special section of today's Independent-Journal.

come about from lack of such controls, he said.

Attorney Charles Pierce, also representing West Marin land owners, said his clients were concerned that "arbitrary and whimsical conditions would be imposed upon them." He asked that the ordinance be rewritten to apply only to parcels of less than one acre.

Supervisors dropped a section of the ordinance that would permit the planning commission to take unto itself the powers given to the planning director in the ordinance. County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said this section was of "doubtful legality."

Under the ordinance the planning director may require any of the following improvements: streets, culverts, flood control facilities, curbs and gutters, fire hydrants, sidewalks and retaining walls. He also may require easements for public or private roads, drainage, access to other areas or public utilities, or reserved strips limiting access to public ways.

Supervisor Kettenhofen offered four amendments, but none was seconded.

Penalty for violation is $25 to $500 fine, or up to six months in jail. Kettenhofen suggested the penalty be withholding of a building permit until the applicant complies with the ordinance.

He also asked that the 10-acre requirement be lowered to two acres, that the ruling on sewage disposal be made at time of acquiring a building permit, and pre-1938 land divisions be exempted if covered by existing ordinances.

When his amendments failed, Kettenhofen moved passage of the ordinance. The vote was 4-0 with Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker absent.

More Money Donated To Marin City Job

Another contribution toward repair of the Marin City Community Center was reported yesterday by Supervisor Peter H. Behr.

Behr, who reported donations of $1,269 last month, told the board of supervisors that he had received another check for $60 toward the project.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Aline Merritt Dies At 63

Mrs. Aline Kistler Merritt of Olema, free-lance writer and wife of artist Warren Chase Merritt, died in a local hospital yesterday after an illness of several weeks. She was 63.

Mrs. Merritt formerly worked as an art critic in San Francisco and edited a music magazine there. When she and her husband moved to Olema in 1955, they purchased the old school house and converted it to a home and studio.

Merritt, illustrator of many books, was the first artist to depict the landing of Sir Francis Drake in California. A mural of Drake's ship being careened on the beach at Drake's Bay will be hung in the Drake Gallery at Buckland Abbey, England, in memory of Adolph S. Oko, noted Drake researcher.

In 1958, the Merritts collaborated in "Fishermen's Wharf Cook Book." Merritt did sketches and Mrs. Merritt wrote the text and the recipes.

In addition to articles on art and design, Mrs. Merritt also assisted in the layout of text books illustrated by her husband.

The Merritts were married 38 years.

Mrs. Merritt was active in St. Columba's Episcopal Church at Inverness, serving for the past three years as clerk of the bishop's committee. She also was in charge of the choir and led choir practice in her home during the Christmas season for many years.

In addition to her husband, she leaves two brothers, Sam Kistler of Salt Lake City, Utah, who has a summer home at Inverness, and Amandas Kistler of Lafayette.

A Requiem Eucharist will be held at 11:30 a.m. Friday at St. Columba's Church. The family prefers donations in Mrs. Merritt's memory to the Way of the Cross fund at the church.

about 200 Negroes and a few white clergymen.

At Atlanta, Ga., more than 2,000 singing and chanting demonstrators paraded in downtown Atlanta yesterday in protest of racial violence in Alabama.

In Washington, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and their wives linked arms and joined some 800 persons in singing "We Shall Overcome" at memorial services for the Rev. James J. Reeb.

The widow and 13-year-old son of the young minister, who was slain last week on a Selma street, sat across the aisle.

The service was held at All Souls Unitarian church, where Reeb served until he moved to Boston last summer.

At Sacramento, Immediate federal intervention to protect the rights and safety of Negroes in Selma, was called for today by a Negro California assemblyman who recently returned from the embattled southern city.

Assemblyman Mervyn M. Dymally, D-Los Angeles, also leveled criticism at California's law enforcement officers "from the top to the bottom" for not condemning what he termed police brutality in Selma.

Question were being asked in Montgomery.:

Who gave the order for Sheriff Mac Sim Butler's mounted posse to charge into a group of young white and Negro civil rights demonstrators?

It wasn't the city police, say Chief Marvin Stanley and Asst. Chief D. H. Lackey.

The county's chief prosecutor, Dave Crosland, says he relayed an order to the sheriff yesterday shortly before more than a dozen deputies on horseback rode into the crowd, swinging clubs, walking sticks and ropes.

But Crosland says the instructions, with no mention of club-swinging, came from someone else — he doesn't remember who — and that he merely relayed them.

QUENTIN REYNOLDS
Author dies at base

QUENTIN REYNOLDS

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE (AP)—Quentin Reynolds, World War II war correspondent and author, died in his sleep today at Travis Air Force Base station hospital. He was 62.

Reynolds was stricken ill at Manila last week and was admitted to Clark Air Force Base hospital in the Philippines last Saturday.

He reached Travis by a Military Air Transport Service evacuation plane at 4:45 p.m. PST yesterday.

James J. Reynolds, assistant secretary of labor, flew from Washington and spent several hours with his brother.

Reynolds fell into a sleep about 7:30 p.m. He died at 5 a.m.

New York, Ralph Furey, Columbia University director of athletics and a brother-in-law of Reynolds, said Reynolds became ill in Manila and was flown to Travis in an ambulance plane.

Death resulted from a cardiac condition and a lung ailment, Furey continued. Reynolds had suffered double pneumonia six weeks ago in Manila, where he went on a writing assignment.

The cause of death was a primary abdominal cancer, Col. Oliver C. Hood, Travis director of hospital services, reported.

VISITOR FROM RUSSIA—Students at Granada School listen as Mrs. Vera Davidenko tells of student life in the Soviet Union, where she is a researcher in education in Kiev. She included schools in the Reed Union District in her travels which have taken her inside schools throughout the United States.

GETS BAG OF NOTES

Russian Educator Sees Reed Schools

By ELLEN BRY

A Russian education researcher, Mrs. Vera Davidenko, will return home in a few weeks "with a whole bag of notes" on American teaching methods, including some on the Reed Union School District.

Mrs. Davidenko Monday visited the Granada School which was constructed especially for team teaching, and yesterday saw other schools in the district on the Tiburon Peninsula.

She looked on as students in the non-graded school (from what usually would be considered fourth, fifth and sixth grades) worked in the one huge classroom.

In one corner a large group studied Spanish, in another corner a single student was getting pointers on mathamatics, elsewhere another lone student was working on his reading, another group wrote stories, still another group worked on social studies reports and some children took out books from the room library.

The individual teaching given students is one of the ideas she will take back to Russia, when she writes her reports on her American stay, she said.

Mrs. Davidenko is an education researcher in the Ukrainian Scientific Research Intitute of Pedagogy in Kiev. She is touring schools in this country under the auspices of UNESCO and the Institute of International Education.

Mrs. Davidenko was slightly less impressed with some of the student discipline she has seen in schools from New York to Detroit, Chicago, Denver and the West Coast.

"In your country there is a tendency to give more freedom to children in the classroom . . . perhaps it's better to follow the old traditional way."

She had planned to visit the University of California at Berkeley but was told by American Officials that she could not, due to the recent upsets of students and administration.

Mrs. Davidenko charmed teachers with her questions and comments and wowed pupils Monday in a short speech telling of student life, dress and games in the Soviet Union.

Granada students all but applauded in envy when they learned younger Russian pupils attended classes only from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. but were crushed by her punch line—that students have classes Monday through Saturday.

"I belong to the Communist Party," she said in answer to a student question. "It means I have to work better than other people, have to be an example because I am a Communist."

She later said the United States had not surprised her, as she had prepared for her trip by reading comments on America. She has also visited England and Finland "so I had already seen some so-called capitalist countries," she said with a grin.

She found United States people and their home life so much like Russian that "sometimes I don't feel myself in a foreign country."

McCarthy Seeks Tax Law Change

Personal effects and household furnishings would be exempt from the property tax, under a bill which State Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, plans to introduce in the legislature this week.

The present tax on personal and household effects has received widespread criticism as difficult to enforce and unfair in its application, the senator pointed out.

McCarthy's bill would not exempt other property such as boats, aircrafts, cars or personal property used in trades and professions.

Meningitis Victim In Fair Condition

The attack was the second this month in Salinas. Merle Pearson died Saturday of the disease.

Phone Rate Cut Order Attacked

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Public Utilities Commission's 1964 order for the Pacific Telephone Co. to cut rates and make refunds to customers has been attacked and defended before the California Supreme Court.

Attorney Francis N. Marshall, representing the company, said yesterday the commission overstepped its authority and that it was in no position to substitute its judgment for the company's.

Richard E. Tuttle, chief counsel for the PUC, said PT&T has dismissed the serious issues in the case. The rates and refund decision were reached after lengthy hearings by the commission, he said.

The company contended the order was unconstitutional and asked the court to set it aside. In its June 11, 1964, ruling the commission told the company to refund $80 million to its customers collected since July 1962. The vote was 3-2.

In a 4-1 vote, the commission then ordered a $40 million annual reduction of rates.

Marshall said the commission decision was "arbitrary" and not based on fact. The result of the commission ruling was "administrative absolutism," he said.

He contended that management makes its decisions on "reasonable and prudent" grounds, and called this the question upon which the case turns.

Tuttle replied that "The company has a stance of moral indignation as if it had been attacked in the night." He said the commission findings challenged validity of company rates, which he called a "just approach."

U. S. Attorney Edward Berlin charged the firm's contention that the refund order was arbitrary is unfounded. Representing the federal government, he said the commission has the authority to "halt unfair rates retrospectively."

The total number of vehicles using the Golden Gate Bridge during the fiscal year 1963-1964, was 24,023,128.

Funeral Rite Changes Asked By Lawmaker

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A Los Angeles Democratic assemblyman is determined to do something about the high cost of dying in California.

Anthony C. Beilenson of Beverly Hills introduced today a seven-part bill aimed at forcing funeral directors to give California citizens a full disclosure of prices and a choice of services.

Here are other major sections of the burial bill:

Funeral directors would have to provide a printed statement to their customers explaining that a dead person's wishes as to his own funeral must be obeyed.

Funeral directors would have to provide a price list of funerals and caskets to all customers.

An embalmer would need permission of the family before embalming the deceased.

Cemeteries would be prohibited from entering into exclusive arrangements with certain undertakers.

Two laymen would be named to the State Board of Funeral Directors.

Current law against the scattering of ashes would be eliminated and relatives would be permitted to dispose of ashes as they see fit.

Another Smoking Link To Cancer

TORONTO (AP) — A team of Canadian scientists says cigarette smoking created an abnormal amount of cancer-causing chemicals in the urine of six research subjects.

The head of the scientific group, Dr. William K. Kerr of the University of Toronto, said last night the tests established a biochemical link between cigarette smoking and cancer of the bladder.

When the subjects stopped smoking, the concentration of the chemicals dropped but increased again when they resumed smoking, the team's report said.

LISTEN AND READ—First graders in Mrs. Peggy Levy's class at Coleman School in San Rafael listen to a tape recording of a story they are reading to themselves. They are participating in an experimental supplementary reading program which has increased interest and ability in reading.

NEW TECHNIQUE TESTED

San Rafael's First Graders Find 'Read-Along' Books Fascinating

By ELLEN DIETSCHY

The new "read-along" sessions in 18 San Rafael elementary school classrooms are almost as popular as recess.

Through the Prime-O-Tec reading program, devised for the district by San Rafael Assistant Superintendent William C. Jordan, learning to read is no longer a tedious task but an enjoyable experience for many students.

The new program centers around a tape recorder with child-sized earphones attached to it.

The children read a story in one of several colorfully illustrated books as the tale is read to them through the earphones.

"It is an unusual experience to see fifteen first graders totally engrossed for 45 minutes, reading animal stories to themselves while the voice coming through their earphones reads the stories aloud," Jordan said.

"With the earphones on, the students are in individual isolation booths, freed from distractions and able to give undivided attention to reading."

The stories have been recorded by Jordan and all of the teachers who have used the new supplementary reading program in their classrooms.

"You don't have to motivate the students to read," Thomas D. Kendall, fifth grade teacher at Coleman School, declared.

"I always have more volunteers to go to the reading equipment than I have space for at the machine."

But the Prime-O-Tec program does not take the place of daily reading sessions with the teacher.

"It is a purely supplementary program which has made the students' assigned reading in state texts much more enjoyable and profitable," Mrs. Peggy Levy, Coleman School first grade teacher, said.

"The children's fluency and comprehension has increased remarkably with the help of Dr. Jordan's program," Mrs. Levy said.

"They are able to recognize the words they have heard over and over again on the tapes in other books which they have not seen before.

"The children are one to two books ahead in the traditional readers in comparison with my class last year," she said.

"Their performance has convinced me that Dr. Jordan's porgram has made my job of teaching reading and the children's task of learning to read much easier."

Most of the parents of Mrs. Levy's students first learned of the program when their youngsters brought one of the Dr. Seuss books home to read only four days after classes began last September.

Mrs. Levy had the youngsters start the program on the first day of school. Most had never seen a tape recorder before. They were fascinated with the earphones and the voice coming through them.

"The title of this book is 'The Little Red Hen.' See the title on the cover. See the little yellow duck. Now let's open the book and start to read," the voice said.

During the first few readings, a bell told the youngsters when it was time to turn the page. Now some of the faster readers are ahead of the tape recorder. The bell is no longer needed.

The Prime-O-Tec equipment also has been useful in increasing reading ability of older children.

"Through the constant repetition of words, slow learners have increased their reading vocabularies and enjoy reading much more," Kendall said.

"They never seem to get bored, even though they hear and read the same stories over and over again," he said.

"I'm committed to the program heart and soul. Dr. Jordan's research work for the system has been based on simple common sense.

"The only limit on the ways Prime-O-Tec can be used is a teacher's ingenuity," he declared.

The teacher-response to the program throughout the district is similar to the enthusiasm of Mrs. Levy and Kendall.

"Many of the teachers were skeptical at first, but those who have used it have become converts.

"It would be foolish to offer this program as an answer to all student reading problems," Jordan said.

"We have seen how much has been accomplished since we started using the machines in September but we are not jumping to conclusions on the program's effectiveness.

"At this point, it is merely a supplementary program which we think is helping the children—and we are very pleased," he said.

For The Birds

PORTLAND, Maine (UPI) — The Atlantic salmon now enters eight rivers in Maine, but no other waters in the United States. This fish was so common in olden days that indentured servants had a clause inserted in their contracts under which they were not to be fed salmon more often than twice a week.

On a clear day Britain can be seen from Europe.

Publisher Buys Sackett Papers

George B. Thornhill, publisher of the weekly Marin Guide and Marin News in Sausalito, has purchased the Ross Valley Times, Larkspur-Corte Madera Times and Tiburon Peninsula Pelican, it was announced today.

The papers were purchased from Sheldon F. Sackett, president of World Newspapers, Inc.

Last July, Sackett had announced plans to expand his Marin coverage beyond the three papers, which have been edited by his daughter, Maria Sackett. He announced plans for a daily "Marin World" at that time.

Thornhill purchased the Sausalito papers from John M. Harlan more than a year ago. He said he will continue publication of Ross Valley Times, Larkspur-Corte Madera Times and Tiburon Peninsula Pelican, but will consolidate them with the Marin Guide.

Offices will be maintained in Sausalito and also in San Anselmo, where Sackett's papers were published, he said.

Chico means little and is derived from Rancho del Arroyo Chico (Ranch of the Little Creek), purchased by Gen. John Bidwell.

BOARD APPROVES 110 TOWNHOUSES

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday granted a use permit for development of a townhouse community in Marinwood.

Hoytt Enterprises plans to construct 110 two-story townhouses on 13.5 acres between Miller Creek Road and Miller Creek, east of Las Gallinas Avenue.

One of the conditions of the permit is that the project have either underground or partially underground utilities. Gerald P. Hoytt of the developers indicated that he plans to have underground utilities.

The permit was granted by 4-0 vote with Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker absent.

The board upheld the planning commission recommendation for rezoning of Harbor Point Unit I along East Strawberry Drive from lots with 7,500 square feet to 20,000 square feet.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen dissented, saying the "higher" zoning was an unnecessary burden on the land owner in view of the smaller lots in neighboring areas. "To zone up now is discriminatory to the property owner," he said.

Stanley Taylor, owner of 17 of the 39 lots involved, had protested the rezoning.

The board voted to rescind its approval of a tentative map of Horseshoe Hill Unit 2, a 17-acre subdivision in Bolinas, and send the map back to the planning commission for further consideration.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Set for May 10 at 8 p.m. a joint meeting with the Marin County Human Rights Commission to discuss the commission's task force report on housing.

2. Approved plans for paving of Simms Street from Jacoby Street 1,000 feet to the east, south of San Rafael and set April 5 at 10 a.m. for opening of bids. The job is estimated at $19,000.

3. Approved plans for landscaping islands on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard between El Portal Road and Elesio Drive, Greenbrae, and set April 5 at 10 a.m. for opening of bids.

4. Accepted dedication of a 40-foot right-of-way on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Oak Manor Drive from Adalbert and Marie Louise Von Rotz at no cost to the county.

5. Authorized sale of $110,000 in San Rafael High School District bonds and set April 13 for opening of bids.

6. Received a report that it would cost about $700 to seed the Golden Gate headlands with wildflowers as proposed by Supervisor Peter H. Behr.

7. Received a report from Behr that letters sent to the board in opposition to the proposed city of Marincello are being held for later reference because there is no action concerning Marincello now before the board.

8. Appointed Leonard W. Lewis of 205 Richardson Drive, Strawberry, to the Alto-Richardson Bay Fire District Board to fill the vacant seat on the board effective April 20. Lewis, only candidate to file for the board, was appointed in February to complete the term until April of Elmer R. Smith, who resigned.

9. Passed a resolution ordering annexation of four parcels of tidelands east of Mar East, Tiburon, to the Tiburon Fire Protection District.

10. Appointed Edward Ross Parkerson as senior planner, and John C. Hau as planner, planning department; Marie McDill, Dorothy Graves, Michele Ritchie, Alfred Scott, Martha Ann Williamson and Jack Yohey, as social workers II, and Patricia Kolitsch, Margaret Odell and Helen L. Peterson as intermediate typist clerks, social services department, and Sandra Jane Hall as intermediate typist clerk sheriff's office.

11. Authorized preparation of a resolution, to be adopted next week, endorsing nine of 14 freeway bills introduced by State Assemblyman Edwin Z'Berg (D-Sacramento).

12. Came up with only two votes in favor of endorsing a proposed state constitutional amendment creating a one per cent telephone franchise tax. Supervisors Behr and William A. Gnoss abstained, saying they needed to know more about it. Leydecker was absent.

13. Authorized $450 to install wall-to-wall carpet in the new courtroom of Superior Court Judge Harold J. Haley. "If anyone should have wall-to-wall carpeting, it should be a superior court judge," quipped Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, an attorney.

GOP Committee Measure Gains

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill (AB 672) by San Rafael Assemblyman William T. Bagley, which would add 58 more persons to the Republican State Central Committee, has been approved by the Assembly Elections and Reapportionment Committee.

Bagley said the measure the Republican State Central would allow Republican county chairmen to appoint one member to the state committee.

Assemblyman Charles J. Conrad, R-Sherman Oaks, said the bill is unfair because Northern California has 50 counties while Southern California has only eight.

Guilty Plea To Mishandled Funds

A San Francisco real estate broker yesterday pleaded guilty in a San Francisco Superior Court to a charge he pocketed $15,000 in the sale of a San Anselmo man's bar.

Eugene Gomez, 49, of Hillsborough, had earlier pleaded innocent. He was arrested a month ago on a complaint by Arthur Barni of 164 Morningside Drive, San Anselmo, that Gomez mishandled funds when selling the San Francisco bar, called Barni's Huddle.

Barni was one of a dozen bar owners who filed complaints against Gomez.

Thieves Get Costly Tools From Truck

A refrigerator maintenance man, Thomas E. Hearty of Arroyo Road, Forest Knolls, has reported theft of $1,800 worth of thermometer instruments from a truck, sheriff's officers said today.

Hearty told deputies the unlocked vehicle was left outside a Forest Knolls garage from Saturday until Monday, and he returned it home before discovering loss of the three instruments from the truck's bed.

Home of C. L. Schaffer, 333 East Strawberry Drive, Strawberry, was entered during the weekend and a television set and radio taken, sheriff's officers were told.

Mrs. Arlene K. Warton, 120 East Strawberry Drive, told deputies her family had been watching the home in the Schaffers' obsence and discovered a sliding door ajar.

Locks on two construction shacks on Park Circle in Marin City were forced Monday and about $5 change stolen, reported Barrett Construction Co.

Morcus W. Took told deputies that burglars entered his Marcus' Custom Upholstery Shop, 726 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, last week and took a $50 typewriter. Entry was by breaking a window.

The unlocked home of Mrs. Helen Harder, 542 Virginia Drive, Tiburon, was entered dluring the past few days and silverware taken, deputies said.

GOP Moderate Group Gets Marin Backing

The newly formed "middle of the road" California Republican League counts on strong Marin County support, the president of the League declared yesterday in Sacramento.

William P. Gray, a Los Angeles attorney who heads the group, said both Marin legislators, State Sen. John F. McCarthy and Assemblyman William T. Bagley are members of the League.

"I also talked to Lee Sherry last week," said Gray. "We've got the cream of the crop in Marin." Mrs. Sherry, of Fairfax, is vice chairman of the Republican State Central Committee.

He said the group was founded for "all forward looking, moderate Republicans who are looking for a home."

"Members of the John Birch Society would not be welcome," Gray said flatly. He said Birch Society members "are not reasonable conservatives but emotional extremists."

Gray said that existing Republican organizations like the California Republican Assembly and United Republicans of California are "oriented substantially to the right of center."

One of the CRL's objectives is to become the strongest Republican endorsing organizations in the state, Gray explained.

But he added that the group has no possible gubernatorial candidate in mind yet. However, we've talked with Senator (Thomas H.) Kuchel, and he is cordial toward the League.

Testimony Continues In Burglary Case

Testimony in the burglary trial of Adolph James Silva, 20, went into the second day today before Judge Harold J. Haley in Marin Superior Court.

Silva, of 720 B Street, San Rafael, allegedly took $175 in cash and a case of liquor after breaking into Bottarini and Ratto Auto Upolstery at 826 Second Street, San Rafael, last Dec. 28.

Cement Delivery Truck Tips Over

A loaded 10-ton concrete mixer truck backed slowly onto a soft shoulder and then tipped over about 12:45 p.m. yesterday at the site of a house under construction opposite 53 Corte Barristo, Larkspur.

Workmen with torches had to cut open the drum of the mixer and shovel out the concrete before two large tow trucks could turn the rig back onto its wheels.

Egidio J. Lambretti, 53, of 42 Crestwood Drive, San Rafael, driver of McPhail's, Inc., was taken to San Rafael General Hospital, where he was reported in good condition with pulled muscles today.

The San Francisco Bay Model in Sausalito is a visual concept of the entire Bay and its environs and illustrates the tides, currents and physical forces of the Bay.

Hideaway Landscaping Due For Sewage Pump Stations

Landscaping which will disguise three pumping stations of the Richardson Bay Senitary District was approved by district directors last night.

Katy and Paul Steinmetz, San Rafael landscape architects, were directed to draw up plans for landscaping around the Salt Works Canal, Cove apartments and Hawthorne Terrace pumping stations. Total cost of the work is expected to be $2,500, district secretary Alfred O. Pratesi reported.

Directors set for April 1 at 3 p.m. opening of bids for relocation of a sewer line from the Tiburon Hill apartments. There will be a directors' meeting at 8 p.m. on the same day at the Trestle Glen treatment plant, when a contract is expected to be awarded.

Success Is Costly

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Climbing the ladder of success can be a costly journey. A group of supervisors in the city Welfare Department complained they were earning about $20 a month less than they received before they became supervisors.

County To Update Worker Records

Marin County supervisors yesterday acted to start updating the county's personnel system.

They voted a $2,216 fund transfer and created a new job in the data processing bureau. Both actions formed the basis for the county to begin consolidating records—now kept in several places—and reduce them to computer form.

County aides hoped the move would end confusion which has mounted since the 1964 grand jury complained about the state of the record system.

Details of the project were spelled out in a memorandum to the supervisors from personnel analyst Martin E. Nelson. It included these points:

1. Confidential, "basic" personnel files will be set up for every county employee and will be kept in the office of Personnel Director Robert D. Elliott.

2. Existing payroll record jackets will remain in the office of Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell.

3. Present cardex records and other payroll data will be boiled down into IBM cards, with copies for Elliott and Mitchell.

4. County Treasurer Stanley J. Fontez will be supplied with whatever data files he needs to maintain the retirement system.

Last month, two members of the former grand jury suggested that records now in Mitchell's office should be carried to Elliott's office. The plan adopted yesterday, however, provides that "existing files and jackets will be maintained at status quo."

Any material in Mitchell's files which should be in Elliott's will be transferred from one jacket to the other, the memo explained.

Total cost of the updating project will be $10,784.60, Nelson said, with $7,500 going for the six-month task of programming the payroll and personnel information.

Actor Connery, Wife Separate

LONDON (UPI) — Actor Sean Connery and his wife, Diane Cilento, have separated, it was reported yesterday. He plays James Bond in the spy movies based on Ian Fleming's novels.

Connery, 34, and Miss Cilento, 30, wer married in November, 1962, a month after she was divorced from Andre Volpe.

Marin Against Adding To Gate Span Board

Marin County supervisors yesterday went on record as opposing any increase in the size of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District board.

They asked State Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, to amend his Senate Bill 466, which calls for one more board member each from Sonoma and Marin counties.

Bridge district directors have opposed the bill, pointing out that it would increase the board's size from 14 to 18 members, since current law would require two more San Francisco members if new Marin and Sonoma directors were added.

Supervisors agreed to ask McCarthy to change the bill so that it called for proportional representation, but no increase in the size of the board. This would eventually give Marin another member.

Attorney Donates $1 Million To USF

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A wealthy Chicago attorney and his wife have donated $1 million to the University of San Francisco, officials announced yesterday.

John F. Healy, a native of San Francisco, attended the university when it was known as St. Ignatious College.

Congress Banning Gerrymander Art

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has dealt what it hopes is a lethal blow at the gerrymander — that odd-shaped congressional district drawn to favor one party over another.

It did it by passing a bill setting federal standards for congressional districts, which would require districts to be "as compact as practical."

Although the definition is far from precise, the bill's backers made it clear they mean the courts to outlaw the weirdly shaped districts that take their name from an early Massachusetts governor, Elbridge Gerry.

Another provision of the bill would permit the population of a congressional district to be within 15 per cent of the average district in that state.

The bill, which passed by a voice vote, now goes to the Senate. Since it doesn't apply to the Senate, the House hopes the Senate will pass it speedily, without change. The provisions would go into effect in time for the 1966 congressional elections.

Surplus Fort Leases Urged For Park Use

State Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, urged today that surplus land at Forts Baker, Barry and Cronkhite be leased to the state for 99 years for park and recreation purposes.

McCarthy said he will introduce a bill in the state Senate, asking the President of the United States and Congress to take necessary steps for the lease arrangement. Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, will co-author the measure.

Present plans are for the state to purchase the surplus military land for Marin Headlands State Park, but this will take considerable time, McCarthy noted. He said the lease would make it possible to open the park almost immediately.

The Army has declared 320 acres of military land surplus.

Student To Play 'Average Woman'

Meanne Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jackson of 113 Convent Court, San Rafael, will play "Average Woman" in a production of "Sign of Jonah," a courtroom drama by Gunther Rutenborn, at St. Mary of the Plains College, Dodge City, Kan., next Friday through Monday.

Miss Jackson is a junior at the college and majors in drama. The play will be presented at the Century Recording studio in Dodge City.

Tam High School Alumni Concerts Set

Two alumni concerts will be presented by the Tamalpais High School Music Club this month, both at 8 p.m. in Ruby Scott Auditorium.

The first concert will be presented by Robert Lamb, Monday, a program of piano music. Lamb graduated from Tamalpais in 1956. The second concert will be Mar. 29 by Wendy Eisler, class of 1961. She will present a concert of flute music assisted by a string quartet from San Francisco State College.

U.C. 'Dirty Word' Fuss Gets Action

BERKELEY (AP) — The "dirty word" fuss at the University of California got action yesterday.

The dean of men ordered three students before a special disciplinary committee.

A municipal judge set March 25 for pleas of the three and for six non-students to charges of obscenity and disturbing the peace.

The dean of men, Arleigh Williams, ordered appearance before the disciplinary committee of Art Goldberg, 23, a graduate student in education, Michael Klein, 23, a graduate student in English, and David Bills, 19.

The special committee, which may start hearings this week, will make recommendations on discipline to the chancellor.

Dean Williams decided to drop charges against two other students and was undecided what to do about yet another. These were not identified.

Lawmakers Hear Obscene U.C. Speech

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The meeting in the legislative committee room was for men only. The purpose was to hear the four-letter word.

The word was shouted, mumbled and giggled a dozen times. The 50 men who showed up for the meeting at first chuckled and grinned when the word was utered.

Toward the end, most grimaced and showed disgust.

The closed meeting was called yesterday by Sen. Jack Schrade, R-El Cajon, to play a tape recording of a rambling 800-word dissertation on love, sex and religion. The talk was given during an obsenity rally March 5 at the Berkeley campus of the University of California.

Schrade said he called the for-men-only meeting "to provide those in authority and in a position to do something about the current obscenity problem an opportunity to actually hear a campus recorded obscenity speech."

At the end of the meeting Assemblyman Don Mulford, R-Piedmont, announced he would introduce two resolutions designed to eliminate such rallies at the university.

One measure, he said, would request the university to take immediate action to expel any student who actively participated in obscene displays. The other would ask the U.C. Board of Regents to hold open a public meeting.

Mulford said the failure of the board during its closed meeting Saturday "to take an aggressive positive stand to deal immediately with the obscenity problem demands that the legislature express itself."

Sausalito Council Condemns Brutality

Sausalito City Council last night followed suit of the county board of supervisors and other agencies in passing a resolution decrying "brutality" by law and enforcement officers in the Selma, Ala., race conflict.

Councilman Alexander Imlay, who proposed the resolution, declared he was "shocked and appalled" at the fatal beating of a pastor who participated in a civil rights march there and felt the council was "obligated to stand up and be heard."

Morals Charge Out, Lack Of Evidence

Charge of rape of a 14-year-old girl was dismissed against Tom Grinner, 54, of Gate 6, Marinship, yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on recommendation of the district attorney's office.

Deputy Dist. Atty. J. Michael Anthony told Judge Joseph G Wilson there was insufficient and inconclusive evidence. Grinner, a junkyard employee, was arrested Jan. 21 and released on his own recognizance.

Radio, Tools Stolen

Rolland McCready of 47 Coronet Avenue, Mill Valley, told police yesterday that during the night someone stole a car radio and tools from his car parked in his garage.

Friends Gather In Honor Of Outgoing Demo

A crowd of about 75 gathered at the Ray Schultz home in Mill Valley yesterday to honor Mrs. Albert (Libby) Gatov of Kentfield, who resigned last month as Democratic national committeewoman.

Clothing and cash ($118) for children of Mississippi were donated by the assembled Democrats.

A testimonial dinner scheduled in San Francisco tomorrow for Mrs. Gatov has been postponed because Gov. Edmund G. Brown and other top party leaders have other engagements.

Roger Kent, Democratic state chairman, said the luncheon will be rescheduled later.

Diet Writers File Suit, Call Royalty Too Thin

Mill Valley authors Robert and Marion Wernick have filed suit against the publisher of their best-selling book, "The Drinking Man's Diet," on grounds they are not getting their share of royalties.

The Wernicks, who live at 175 Elinor Avenue, filed yesterday in San Francisco Superior Court. Named defendant was the Cameron Co. of San Francisco.

Robert W. Cameron of the publishing company said his attorneys saw "no firm basis" for the suit.

Mr. and Mrs. Wernick say Cameron orally promised them a five per cent royalty, which they took to mean five cents on every book sold at $1.

Instead, they charge, Cameron interpreted this to mean five per cent of the 41-cent wholesale price to distributors, or two cents per book. The Wernicks said today they have not yet received even this much from Cameron.

Their book has sold more than 650,000 copies since it was published last fall, according to the publisher.

In the suit, the Wernicks ask for the full five-cent royalty. Also, they ask the court to appoint a receiver who would keep track of the book's sales and income, and to order an accounting of Cameron's sales records.

SILVER $$ DAYS SET IN NOVATO

Tomorrow, Friday and Saturday are city-wide "Silver Dollar Days" in Novato, with many values to be offered in leading stores.

A number of sales announcements will appear in Independent-Journal advertising pages during the three days.

The Novato Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the event and a similar sales program in the fall.

Troupers Plan To Stage 'Antigone' At Dominican

The Dominican College Troupers will present an adaption of Jean Anouilh's play "Antigone," April 1, 2 and 3 at 8:15 p.m. in Hanify Hall at the college.

The production will be staged in the round under direction of Sister M. Cyril.

Starring as Antigone will be Mary Trobitz, senior speech and drama major from Arcata, Humboldt County.

Ernest Widlund of Corte Madera will play the tyrant king, Creon, and Larry Selna of Corte Madera will play his henchman.

Anouilh's play was adapted for the Troupers by speech and drama professor Margaret Wolfson.

Jazz Concert Set In Angelico Hall

The Paul Winter Sextet, a modern jazz group, will be presented by the associated students of Dominican College in Angelico Hall of the college in San Rafael, Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Their music has been called "contemporary chamber music" because of the highly organized ensemble nature of arrangements.

The sextet is composed of saxophone, classical guitar, flute, piano, bass and drums. Its repertaire features many original compositions, standard jazz tunes, and adaptations of popular and folk music of many countries.

Proceeds will be given by the student body to the chapel building fund.

Hollis Aides Get Half Of Requested Raise

The two top assistants to County Supt. of Schools Virgil S. Hollis last night got only half the raise their boss recommended last month, but they nevertheless will have higher salaries than Hollis, as of July 1.

The Marin County Board of Education unanimously adopted its own ad hoc committee's recommendations an salaries for certificated personnel in county administered schools at a special meeting in the Civic Center.

The recommendations called for raises of 3.5 per cent for teachers, rather than the 5 per cent Hollis proposed, and of $250 or $500 a year for administrators.

The board also adopted for the first time a two-step salary range for each of the administrators. Henceforth, newcomers to the positions will serve one year at the salary paid for the jobs this year, then get a raise to the maximum voted last night.

Hollis himself received no raise; his salary is set by state law at $16,058 a year.

Under the July 1 pay scale, Asst. Supts. Robert Stannard and Stanley Friese each will get an increase from $16,000 to $16,500. Hollis had recommended $17,000.

The schools department's three directors will be raised from $15,000 to $15,500—$250 less than Hollis asked.

The ad hoc committee and board agreed with Hollis's recommendations of $500 raises to $14,250 for two coordinators and $250 to $13,750 for three consultants.

In addition, all employees in the department will receive health plan coverage worth $120 a year, voted last month.

James A. Carroll of Ross, spokesman for the committee, said the adopted recommendations preserved the differential between positions, rather than widening them as would the superintendent's recommendations.

Board member Patrick W. Pollock of San Anselmo stressed that the department's regular salary committee should prepare early next year the necessary data on comparative salaries and other pay factors.

Board President Robert G. Randolph of Mill Valley last month objected that school districts and county departments seems to be in a horse race to see who can pay the most.

"My thinking in a certain sense, hasn't changed, but we have to go along with the recommendations," he said last night.

Tire, Rim Taken

Michael Pierce of Mill Valley told police yesterday that someone pried open the trunk of his car in front of his home at 83 Walnut Avenue and stole a tire and rim, valued at $35.

Rapid Transit Systems Seen

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Construction of rapid transit systems is emerging as our next large national construction project, the Associated General Contractors convention was told yesterday.

William A. Bugge, project director of the firm designing and supervising construction of the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit System, said $12 billion will be spent on rapid transits in the next few years.

Bugge said the Bay Area project will cost $1 billion and provide a speedy 75-mile link between San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley and numerous suburban communities.

WHAT FLAVOR PRETZEL SUITS CHERRY LAGER?

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The president of the Brewery Workers Union says American beer drinkers "might be ready for lager and lime, cherry beer, unhopped beer, jellied beer and beer aspic."

The president, Karl Feller, writes this in the current edition of the union's monthly magazine.

He says Americans "might be tiring of the old beer taste," and that "laboratory tests might produce more sales for the brewing industry than present high-powered advertising of the low-powered taste of some brews."

Curriculum Consultant Plan Is Hit

The Marin County Board of Education last night unanimously approved hiring an outside consultant to help the Bolinas-Stinson School District's curriculum study, but only after sharp questioning by board member Patrick W. Pollock.

He wanted to know why the study committee could not use the department's own consultant, Robert Spain of San Rafael. He also asked whether the estimated $200 expense was justified in a district with only 150 or 160 pupils. And he wondered whether hiring an outsider would set a precedent for requests from other school districts.

Asst. County Supt. Stanley Friese successfully defended the recommendation.

"We want to encourage such studies in depth by all the districts we serve," he said. The county department's own man already is involved in assisting the Bolinas-Stinson study, he added, and "there is no relationship between district size and curriculum problems.

The Marin County Board of Education also:

1. Approved a 177-day 1965-66 school year calendar for the special classes operated by the county department, running from Sept. 13 through June 17. Board member James A. Carroll of Ross objected that he was "seriously concerned for the mental welfare" of pupils because no school holidays were proposed for periods of up to eight weeks in both semesters. He wanted more three-day weekends. County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis said the calendar generally must conform to those of districts in which the special classes are conducted.

2. Asked board member Adele J. Alpers of San Rafael to report on Assembly Bill 946, which would amend the Ralph Brown open meeting act, after several board members voiced tentative objections to its requirement that 24 hours public notice be given on all committee meetings.

3. Accepted gifts of $750 from the Marin Rod and Gun Club and $120 from the club's women's auxiliary, to assist the county department's annual outdoor education program. Mount Diablo Unified School District in Contra Costa County wants to use the program along with several Marin County districts, Hollis reported.

4. Received a report that "the majority of" first-time candidates for school district trustees and many incumbents had attended the March 6 workshop for candidates, at which they were given extensive information on school boards' relationship to the law, the tax dollar, the educational program and educational leadership. More than 60 of the candidates on the April 20 ballot participated, Hollis said.

5. Received a report that hearing tests have been given 5,983 pupils in Lagunitas, Dixie, Novato, San Jose and Kentfield districts, with 709 re-screened after failing the test once, and 315 referred to school nurses for possible further checkups.

Free Ear Tests Slated In Novato

A free hearing clinic will be held from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on March 27 at the Novato Moose Hall at 855 Vallejo Avenue, sponsored by the Novato Moose Lodge.

Electronic ear testing equipment will be furnished by Zenith Corp., according to Albert C. Robles, chairman of the hearing testing committee of the lodge.

Leon Strauss Jr., head of the Bay Area Hearing Aid Center of Zenith Corp. in San Francisco, will train the committee members on how to conduct the test, Robles said. Members are Donald Wolfe, Buell W. French, Willis G. Frey, Louis Sittenauer and Robles.

Power Is Out After Truck Strikes Pole

About 2,500 homes in the East San Rafael, Greenbrae and Bret Harte areas were blacked out last night after a dump truck backed into a power line pole and snapped a high voltage line.

The bump, happened at 8 p.m. at Jacoby and Simms Street just off the Redwood Highway.

Electricity was out to about 2,000 San Rafael homes for 25 minutes and to 400 Greenbrae homes for 57 minutes while circuits were re-routed, reported Leonard O. Robertson, electric superintendent for Pacific Gas and Electric Co. A PG&E crew required two hours to repair the damage, he said.

San Quentin Prison was without power for a few minutes until an emergency generator could be put in operation.

Robertson said the truck driver is unknown. Some residents on Jacoby Street saw the truck drive away.

Old Wart Remedies

NEW YORK (UPI)—Troubled with warts? One piece of folklore advises taking a kernel of corn for each wart, throwing the kernels over your left shoulder into a river or bayou. Or you can bury the kernels so deep they won't sprout. Then the warts will vanish. The old wives' tale was printed in "Corn," publication of the Corn Industries Research Foundation.

Professor Says Drop-Outs Are Often Bright Students

There is a mistaken belief that it is the dull student who drops out of high school, Dr. Harrison G. Gough yesterday told a meeting of high school and college counsellors from throughout Marin County.

Tests show that almost as many bright students as retarded ones fail to make it through high school, he said. Aptitude tests are a good indicator of future grades, but not of future survival in school, he declared.

Gough, professor of psychology at University of California in Berkeley, said there are other tests which will predict which students will drop out of school.

In high school the student most likely to graduate is the one with a good "citizenship" record, he said—the student who obeys rules and is interested in school activities. A student who receives good grades but who is often in trouble and who has friends and interests outside of school is less likely to graduate.

Another factor indicating a child will graduate is his ability to study efficiently, Gough added. A bright student who has trouble concentrating on homework will often drop out.

Corte Madera Chamber Names Study Committee

Shoe store owner Harry Kramer was named today by the Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce to head a committee to study town sentiment on proposed construction of a large White Front discount department store on 17 acres across Highway 101 from Corte Madera Shopping Center.

Kramer's committee was also asked for a recommendation on development of the entire 100 acres now undeveloped in the town east of the highway, and specifically whether commercial or light industrial building should be encouraged.

The chamber board agreed to charge 15 cents for its brochur about the town, and voted to give $100 to the Corte Madera-Larkspur Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Marin City Residents Get Lot Assignments

Lot assignments for six Marin City residents were approved last night by Marin County Redevelopment Agency commissioners with proviso the home builders must submit by April 1 financial proof that they can complete construction within a year's time.

James O. Quiett, Benjamin Myles, Skyral E. Sweeney, Samuel L. Banks, Daniel Hayden and Joseph Bell were given the lot assignments. Their homes, on Buckelew Street, will be the first single-family homes built in the redevelopment of Marin City by individuals.

Old Safe Looted Of $400 Cash In Stinson Beach

Burglars yesterday looted an old safe at Elwood's, cafe and bar on Highway 1, Stinson Beach, of about $400 cash and $65 in checks, sheriff's officers reported today.

Sheriff's Sgt. Robert Bertrand said the 250-pound safe, beneath the bar, was not forced and it was undetermined how it was opened.

Owner and operator Harry R. Shurtleff said he closed the establishment about 1:30 a.m. yesterday after locking the safe.

The break-in, by cutting a rear screen and forcing a door, was discovered by an employee, Roberta A. Patterson, when she arrived for work at 8:40 a.m. yesterday, Sergeant Bertrand said.

She said she found the safe door wide open and the money bags gone.

Concord was first named Todes Santos (All Saints) in 1862 by Salvio Pacheco, owner of Rancho del Diablo. Later it was renamed for Concord, Mass.

Fairfax School Board Votes Salary Hikes

Fairfax School District trustees voted teacher salary increases ranging from $150 to $750 a year last night.

The trustees also approved the principle of higher pay for teachers obtaining a master's degree and for levels of experience beyond 13 years, but told Supt. Homer Sisk to study whether the district can afford it.

The teacher's salary committee had recommended honorariums of $600 for a master's degree and from $200 to $350 for length of service.

The new salary schedule runs from a minimum of $5,400 to a maximum of $10,000. Sisk said this places the district "in an average position" in relation to other districts in Marin.

The trustees deferred study of salary schedules for non-teaching personnel and principals and superintendent until their April 6 meeting.

Trustees told Sisk to withhold payment of $1,200 to Modulux Inc., because the company was three days late in installing the district's new relocatable classrooms. The district's contract to lease the classrooms provides for a $400 a day penalty if the rooms aren't ready for use, Sisk said.

The Fairfax School District board also:

1. Agreed in principle to a proposal for a camping program for sixth graders to be conducted by students from San Francisco State College, but set a meeting of parents and teachers for 8 p.m. next Wednesday at Manor School to find out whether parents of the sixth graders approve the program.

2. Heard from Sisk that the schoolhouse planning bureau of the State Department of Education and the local allocations board of the State Department of Finance are considering the trustees' choice of a $289,000 site for a seventh and eighth grade school west of Oak Manor Drive and north of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

3. Heard from Bruce MacDonald, principal of Deer Park School, on the district's Spanish language program. Teacher Ellen Brenemen demonstrated teaching methods with her third grade class. Helen Hough's eighth grade class gave a demonstration of its proficiency after three years of training in Spanish.

Radio Firm Men Given Probation

Two men, former owners of Mars Communication Inc., Mill Valley, were placed on one year's probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for making false statements of their firm's financial condition to obtain cash.

Louis LeRoy Ami, 52, Los Angeles, and Rodney Lee McMullen, 35, Seattle, Wash., also were ordered by Judge Joseph G. Wilson to make restitution of $1,500 each.

They sold one per cent interest in the company — which dealt with radio communications systems — to two Mill Valley residents last January and February. The firm's office was at 316 Miller Avenue.

Burglary Trial Starts For Teen-Age Suspect

Trial of Juan Jose Reimoneng, 19, charged with the July burglary of Smith's Flying A Service, 7351 Redwood Highway, Novato, began yesterday in Marin Superiod Court.

The San Francisco youth allegedly took eight tires. A second suspect, John Edward Padilla, 21, also of San Francisco, has pleaded guilty to the burglary. Judgment for him is scheduled before judge Thomas F. Keating on April 5.

Novato Schools Bond Campaign Leaders Named

Two retired colonels were selected last night to head a committee for school bonds in the new Novato Unified School District.

They are Leonard E. McCormick of 1384 Joyce Street, and Charles J. Maloney of 2205 Center Road.

The chairmen agreed to meet with representatives of parent-teacher associations in the present Novato Unified and San Jose Districts.

Approximately 50 attended the committee meeting at Rancho School. They made plans to get out a brochure to be delivered door-to-door before the April 20 school election.

At this election, voters in the new Novato Unified School District will be asked to level the $2,698,000 in bonds of the old Novato Unified school district and the $567,000 in bonds of the San Jose School District.

They will also be asked to approve a new $3,840,000 bond issue and an $11,520,000 state loan authorization for a five-year building program.

Jail Sentence Handed Driver

Ruby Marie Rock, 48, of 326 Glen Park Avenue, San Rafael, was sentenced to 15 days in county jail and fined $550 yesterday in Marin Municipal Court following her March 5 jury conviction for drunken driving.

She was arrested Jan. 5 on Highway 101 by California Highway Patrol and had two prior convictions.

Ronald Harder, 30, of 55 Magnolia Avenue, San Anselmo, was fined $166, also for drunken driving on Highway 101. He was arrested by the patrol last Friday.

Swift Service On Insurance

NEW YORK (UPI) — One out of every five persons in the United States and Canada is about to get his fastest insurance service. The world's largest insurance company has just installed a nationwide computer communications system to assist the 44 million people it insures.

The computer system, developed by Honeywell Inc., will operate between about 900 branch offices and Metropolitan Life's home office in New York to give virtually 24-hour service on requests for loans, settlements and inquiries of all types. The records of those 44 million policyholders are stored on thousands of reels of magnetic tape which the computer can read at a rate of several hundred records per second.

Employee Thefts

NEW YORK (UPI) — Merchandise, not cash, is the target of dishonest employes in 75 per cent of all employe theft, according to officials at the Dale System, nationwide business security organization. They maintain this is because most employers tend to ignore safeguards that would protect their merchandise.

Pet Spending High In U.S.

NEW YORK (UPI) — So popular are pets today that Americans are spending about $1.5 billion annually for pets, food and incidentals. Last year they spent about $530 million for dog food alone — nearly double the money spent for baby food. F. W. Woolworth Co., the world's largest outlet for pets other than dogs and cats (which the firm doesn't sell) reports soaring sales in its 2,117 stores throughout the country. W. L. Hammond, head of Woolworth's pet operations, says it reflects "more leisure and more money to support pets." Last year his firm sold 800,000 turtles, more than 672,000 tropical fish and nearly 5.5 million packages of fish and turtle food.

Flying Mowers

NEW YORK (UPI) — A Swedish rotary mower which moves on a quarter-inch cushion of air will soon hit the U.S. market, according to Merchandising Week, McGraw-Hill publication. The air-cushion principle, similar to that used in swamp cars, enables easy maneuvering and safe mowing. The low clearance prevents injury to fingers and feet; with no discharge chute, there is little chance of flying rocks.

Market Mixed At Close In Active Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed mixed today in moderately active trading.

The list was irregular all day, with slight improvement showing in the afternoon. This failed to gather any following, however, and the list was thoroughly scrambled at the close.

International Nickel bolstered the averages with a rise of more than 2. Gains of more than a point by Du Pont and Allied Chemical also were helpful in that respect.

Losses of a point or more were sustained by Boeing, Eastman Kodak, United Aircraft and IBM.

U.S. Smelting fell more than 2.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.3 million shares compared with 5.55 million yesterday.

Here was the picture near the close:

The list was virtually unchanged for half the session, then selected blue chips gave the list an upward tilt, but not by much.

Gains of more than 2 by International Nickel and more than a point by Du Pont beefed up the averages. Also helpful in that respect was a 1-point rise by Allied Chemical and fractional gains by Texaco, General Electric, Chrysler, General Motors and Westinghouse Electric.

Down about a point were United Aircraft, Boeing, Eastman Kodak and MGM.

Eirie-Lackawanna looked like the most active stock and traded unchanged. American Photocopy was also active but down fractionally.

Up about 2 were Reliable Stores, National Acme and Norwich Pharmacal.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mixed.

Public Refuses To Fear Future

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The Cassandras are having a hard time of it just now.

Whenever the prophets of doom stress problems that could become tomorrow's disasters—the gold drain, unemployment, disregard of wage-price guidelines, threatened overheating of the economy—government statisticians come out with their routine reports that show each month's performance better than the last.

The problems are there. And they are knotty. But the current measures of the economy show it is strong that the public—whether consumer or businessman—seems inclined to let the problems take care of themselves in due course.

That goes for the fighting in the two Viet Nams, which rarely now causes a flurry in the stock market as it once did.

The same attitude goes for the steel labor negotiations which some see as currently overheating the economy, but which many outsiders now seem to feel will be worked out without too much damage.

The general complacency holds for the balance of payment deficit, the renewed drain of U.S. gold reserves and the whole international monetary dispute, which the worriers say could undermine the value of the dollar and hamstring world trade, but which much of the public regards as something the bankers will take care of in time.

Arousing the public to future threats is hard because the recurring monthly figures are so good.

The Labor Department reports that almost 70 million Americans have jobs. Instead of declining in February as is customary, nonfarm payrolls rose to more than 58 million, and the seasonally adjusted factory work week of 41.4 hours was the highest for any month since the end of World War II.

Steel production continues to set records. So do new car sales. Many other industries are enjoying prosperity along with these two, which are most in the public eye.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Interest You Pay Can Be Deducted

By P. J. WIKEL, C.P.A.

Interest you pay is deductible if you are legally liable for the debt. You cannot deduct interest you pay for another if you were not legally liable to pay.

P. J. Wikel

Interest is deductible in several places on your tax return, depending on what you use the loan money for, not on the property which secures the loan. For instance, if you borrow money on your home and use it to improve a piece of rental property you own, you can deduct the interest on the Rental Schedule.

If you are self-employed and your business borrows money which you use for personal purposes, the interest is not deductible as a business expense on Schedule C, but only as a page 2 deduction if you itemize.

When you buy property or educational services on the installment plan, or use a deferred payment plan of an educational institution for educational services which is provided for a student and the interest is separately stated, you can deduct the interest in the year paid no matter what the rate.

If the extra charges for time buying are only identified as "carrying charges" and the interest cannot be determined, you can only deduct the lesser of the following: 6 per cent of the average monthly unpaid balance of your account or the amount of the carrying charges allocable to the year.

To find your average unpaid balance, add the balance of your account at the end of each month in the year and divide by 12. To figure the carrying charges allocable to the year, divide the total carrying charges on the contract by the number of payments to be made.

This gives you a carrying charge per payment. Then multiply this by the number of payments you made in the year. You can deduct only the smaller of the two.

Image Makers Inc. Faces Mighty Task With Yanks

The scene is the plush Madison Ave. office of "Image Makers, Inc.", a high-powered public relations firm whose slogan is "The 'Impossible,' We Do By 11 O'clock," or "We're No. 3, We Try HARDEST!"

Lester I. Smart, the executive vice president, is on the phone. Lester I. is trying hardest at the moment to make his secretary kiss him. Reluctantly, he picks up the gold French phone which a brass plate identifies as the one Marshal Petain used to surrender France in 1940. Vichy France was one of I. M. Inc.'s earliest accounts.

"Ralph Houk? Ralph, baby how are you? How's the old CBS subsidiary? Pancake make-up for the infield this year eh, baby?

"What? It's about the image? The Yankees' image? Pish, tush, Ralphie, a mere bagatelle. Can we handle it? Ralphie, can a Sicilian make pizza? Can Bette Davis smoke?

"A tough job? Ralphie, don't make me laugh. Who do you think got Benedict Arnold on fourth of July fireworks? Recall who it was almost got Hermann Goering named grand marshal of the Rose Parade? Ralphie, we could get Nasser into Hillcrest! Who do you think it was got the 1919 Black Sox on bubble-gum cards? Ralphie, baby, we could get Cassius Clay elected governor of Alabama. IN THE PRIMARY! I may point out with pride who it was who got Count Dracula honorary chairman of the blood bank drive. Ralph, with a big-enough budget, we could get the man-eating shark for the national emblem. Al Capone could have been head of the FBI if he came to us. You got nothing to worry about, Ralphie. The Yankees will be the most lovable team since Laurel and Hardy before we get through."

He hangs up. "All right, Miss Higgenbottom, straighten your lipstick and get off my knee. Enough of this silly lovemaking, we got work to do. Get me my assistant, Poison Penney, and tell him to bring the Yankee file-not all those kooky farmers, the baseball team."

A few minutes later, there is a knock on the door, and a furtive little character with a pointed nose, beady little eyes and sharp pointed teeth enters. This is Poison Penney who is married to Lester Smart's sister and is thus known in the industry as "Brother-in-Law Rat." He works for 10 per cent of the gross, and all the cheese he can eat.

'They Campaigning For Cancer?'

Lester takes off his glasses wearily, pinches the bridge of his nose between his thumb and forefinger and sighs. "All right, what's the bad news, what have these guys been doing, campaigning for cancer?"

"Almost, Boss," Poison agrees quickly, "I have gone over the files and, believe me, this crew could improve their public image by going out and painting moustaches on George Washington, pushing Little Orphan Annie into traffic, or drowning her dog Sandy. Boss, if these guys died, not even George Jessel could think of something nice to say. These guys wouldn't accept a collect call from their mother if she was kidnapped. Boss, they make Central Park muggers look like public benefactors. It's my guess they sleep in caskets."

Lester puts his head down on the desk and starts to sob. "Other guys on the street get Albert Schweitzer, Lady Bird, Perry Como and Good Ship Lollipop. Me, I get gangrene, the Black Muslims, the White Citizens Council and the Purple People Eaters, and now, the New York Yankees. All right, tell me the worst."

Poison clears his throat. "Well, it goes back to 1928 when their manager, Miller Huggins, died. Lovable little fellow. Fellow named Christy Walsh had to phone up the management and tell them for God's sake to send some flowers."

"Great, great!" moans Lester.

"Then, they have this great star, Babe Ruth. I mean, boss, a sweetheart. You know. Big, lovable, fat guy with a positive genius for hitting home runs. Not an ounce of harm in him. Goes around to hospitals visiting sick kids and old ladies. Boss, next to Santa Claus he's the most popular image in history.

Lester shudders. "And when he was through they just gave him a minor job, eh?" he fears the worst.

Kicked The Babe Out The Door

Poison sighs. "Boss, they kicked him right out the door—RIGHT OUT THE DOOR! And I don't think they even opened it. They wouldn't even let him sell peanuts in their ballpark.

Lester groans. "Go on," he sobs.

"They got this lovable old character of a manager. I mean, Boss, like he's right out of Hans Christian Andersen or a Disney movie. Little old gnarled fellow, makes you smile just to look at him. He's got a way o' talking could make the phone book seem like Joe Miller, y'know what I mean?"

"But he was a loser? I mean, he couldn't win pennants—World Series?" Lester guesses wildly, hopefully.

Poison shakes his head. "Every year, practically, he won. He won the year they fired him."

"Fired him!" moans Lester, covering his eyes. "Oh, no! Good Lord, why don't I get an easy account—like the Benedict Arnold account. Why does Dull, Dim and Burnup get all the cushy white wash jobs—like the Mafia?"

"There's more," says Poison Penney grimly. "There's this character they had catching for them over the years. Boss, are ya ready? His name is Yogi Berra. Right! The one they made that lovable cartoon character out of. They kid him around the league. Bring him comic books and bananas. He's got ears out to here. He's got this kind of sad face. He walks funny. When I tell you kids love him, it's only half of it. He takes his hat off in the presence of ladies. He's a family man, a churchgoer. And how he can hit that old apple! He personally wrecks the careers of a half-dozen Yankee-hating pitchers.

Firing Of Yogi The Last Straw!

They're thinking of giving him Don Newcombe to hang in his den. And he's Italian. Boss, I don't have to tell you what that means in New York City."

Lester, eagerly: "So they make him a manager?"

Poison: "Right!"

Lester looks relieved. Then, apprehensive. "He doesn't blow the pennant?" he fears.

Poison looks grim. "No. But they fire him anyway."

Lester turns white. His lips tremble. He slides open a desk drawer, pulls out a handful of pills, pops them in his mouth. He pushes savagely on a buzzer.

"Wait a minute, Boss, there's more!" yells Poison, alarmed. "There's Vic Raschi and Ed Lopat and Herb Pennock and Lefty Gomez. Boss, there's . . ."

But Lester isn't listening. "Miss Higgenbottom," he is barking into an intercom. "Get me Ralph Houk! Quick!

"Hello, Ralph? Ralph, this is Lester. Ralph, there are two kinds of accounts Image Makers, Inc. won't take—the Devil and the New York Yankees. Are we clear on that? No, Ralph, not even for a piece of CBS. We can handle traitors, murderers, gangsters or grave-robbers. But an outfit that trifles with shiny faced kids and baseball—really, Ralph! My advice to you is to wait till midnight some night with that club of yours and get this thick wooden spike and drive it into their chest. Either that or change the name to the 'New York Bats.' No, Ralph, not wooden bats. The kind with wings on them . . ."

Murakami To Play In S.F.

TOKYO (AP) — Masanori Murakami, the perplexed pitcher from Tokyo, probably will do his pitching this year for the San Francisco Giants instead of the Nankai Hawks.

The Japanese baseball commissioner, the Hawks and the Giants were in agreement today that the 20-year-old left-hander should work for the Giants in 1965. After that there's still a dispute. The Hawks want him back in 1966. The Giants want to keep him.

As for Murakami, the man in the middle who would rather play in Japan, he said today:

"I want to play ball. But if I say I don't want to go to the United States and then be unable to play in Japan, then I guess I must go.

"But I want to talk it over with my manager and my parents. It is regrettable but I'll have to go along with the decision of the commissioner and the team."

Yushi Uchimura, the Japanese baseball commissioner who is suffering from a stomach ailment, said he had sent U.S. Commissioner Ford Frick a letter agreeing that Murakami should play for the Giants in 1965. But he said he also recommended that the pitcher be returned to the Hawks in 1966.

This was acceptable to the Hawks' owner, Osamu Tsubota, who said:

"As soon as we hear word that Mr. Frick agrees to this solution we will persuade Murakami to go to San Francisco."

Frick could not be reached immediately for comment. He had ruled Murakami's contract had been purchased legally by the Giants from the Hawks.

Owner Horace Stoneham of the Giants said, "I think he will help us and we are glad to have him."

But he said the Giants want to retain ownership of the pitcher, who made a fine showing in the National League last September.

Top Skiers Get Ready For More International Action

VAIL, Colo. (AP) — Victorious Austrian and French skiers rested today after the Vail Trophy slalom races before leaving tomorrow for Sun Valley, Idaho, and more international competition in the Harriman Cup races starting Monday.

Hugo Nindl, Karl Schranz and Frank Digruber of Austria finished 1-2-3 yesterday in the men's race down perfect snow and in sunny weather just below freezing.

Marielle Goitschel, the talented slalom artist from France, captured the women's race but Traudl Hecher and Edith Zimmermann were right behind to give the Austrians second and third.

The men raced down two separate courses, the first with 66 gates and the second with 63 gates. The women sped twice down the same route with 62 gates. All three courses were 2,000 feet long with a vertical drop of 600 feet.

Nindl, starting 13th on the first run and No. 5 on the second, made the two trips in 104.99 seconds. He was sixth on the first ride and second fastest on the second run. Schranz' total time was 105.12 and Digruber's 105.18.

Billy Kidd of the United States, who was eighth on the first trip in 55.95 seconds, charged back with the fastest time of 49.23 on the second run with Nindl clocking 49.93. Kidd's total was 105.18 for fourth place.

Jean-Claude Killy, the peerless 21-year-old Frenchman who won slalom and giant slalom honors in the American Internationals earlier on the same course, missed a gate on his first trip and was disqualified. He was clocked in 54.07 seconds, fastest on the initial run.

Miss Goitschel turned in the fastest time of 55.48 seconds for the first run and 53.71 seconds on the second for a total of 109.19 seconds and a 3.2 seconds lead over runner-up Miss Hecher.

Robin Morning, 17, of Mammoth Mountain, Calif., finished fourth in 113.51 seconds. Miss Morning took the place in yesterday's competition of Jean Saubert, McCall, Ida. Miss Saubert had to return to her studies at Utah University.

All 28 members of the U.S. Alpine squad, from which 10 were chosen for the international team races here, will be in the field at Sun Valley.

Boxers Sign For Title Twin Bill

NEW YORK (AP) — Emile Griffith figures he's a smart enough fighter to learn from mistakes and a busy enough champion to shrug off complaints of ducking anyone.

The 27-year-old Virgin Islander was the most loquacious of the four principals yesterday in the contract signings for the championship doubleheader at Madison Square Garden March 30. He will defend his world welterweight crown against Jose Stable and light heavyweight champion Willie Pastrano wil flight Jose Torres in the first multiple-title program ever staged at the old Eighth Ave. arena.

The first questions directed at Griffith were about that first-round loss to Rubin Carter in 1963, the only knockout Griffith has sustained. Was he caught off guard? asked a newsman. Had he had no chance to get warmed up?

"No, that wasn't it," Griffith replied. "Actually, that loss was for the best. It made me realize I could be dropped, that I had made the mistake of taking an opponent lightly. I have learned from that. I certainly am not taking Stable lightly, for instance."

Pastrano and Torres, between interminable sessions with television and news photographers, reported they were fit and confident — and looked it.

The Garden, in the midst of a boxing revival sparked by the Floyd Patterson-George Chuvalo thriller, is scaled to take in $250,000 for its title doubleheader.

Pastrano is guaranteed $100,000 or 30 per cent of the take — gate, closed circuit television, radio and movies. Griffith's share will be $70,000 or 25 per cent of all revenue, and the two challengers are to get $10,000 apiece.

NYU, Army Triumph In Cage Tourney

NEW YORK (AP) — New York University and Army find themselves in a familiar spot. Only they hope the spot becomes unfamiliar after tomorrow night.

The basketball teams joined top-seeded Villanova and St. John's in the semifinals of the National Invitation Tournament, NYU defeating Detroit 87-76 and Army outlasting Western Kentucky 58-54 last night.

In the semifinal round Army will meet St. John's before NYU battles Villanova, the nation's eighth-ranked team.

Clay Begins Training

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Cassius Clay held his first sparring session yesterday as he opened serious training for his May 25 date with Sonny Liston at Boston, and it looked like the real thing.

Rudy Clay slipped to the left as his brother, the heavyweight champion, fired three quick jabs. Rudy countered with a hook to the stomach, scored with a right to the head, then stepped inside and banged both hands to the body.

Stung, the champion slammed four hooks to the side of Rudy's head. Rudy fought back and it went that way for the two rounds.

Later, gasping as he stretched out on a rubbing table, Cassius watched last month's good living pour off his brown body.

"There it goes," he said. "All those big ice cream sodas and soft drinks. Look at that! You can see me losing those pounds, I'm melting so fast."

Clay is at least 10 pounds on the wrong side of the scale, but he is young and seven weeks is more than enough to trim them off.

Pagan's Key Blow Leads Giants To A Narrow Win

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — San Francisco shortstop Jose Pagan underwent an eye operation after his disappointing 1964 season and certainly seems to be seeing the baseball better this spring.

In the first three Cactus League exhibition games, the little infielder from Puerto Rico has connected safely five times in 11 trips to the plate for a .455 average.

His production includes a triple and yesterday's payoff single in the last of the ninth inning driving home the winning run as the Giants edged the Chicago Cubs 6-5.

Jose hit just .223 last season, lowest of his four seasons as the Giants shortstop and he came to camp as one of the question marks. He had undergone surgery to correct an eye ailment and the Giants hoped he could snap back to his form of a couple years ago.

Manager Herman Franks has hopes of using Pagan as his has done well in that spot.

He was, however, the second batter in the ninth yesterday facing Jack Warner, the Cubs rookie. Tom Haller had singled off John Boccabella's glove at first base and was awarded second when Warner blocked his turn at first.

Larry Edmonson went in as a pinch runner and Pagan connected with his third single of the afternoon to drive home the runner. He hit his triple on Sunday against Cleveland and had singled in three trips in the exhibition opener against the Tribe on Saturday.

The Giants traveled to Scottsdale today for their first spring meeting against the Boston Red Sox Ron Herbel, Bob Garibaldi and Bob Priddy were the pitchers selected for duty by Franks.

Garibaldi this spring is trying a comeback after arm trouble benched the $150,000 rookie from Stockton, Calif., last season in Tacoma.

The Giants had good news from two fronts. Trainer Frank Bowman said ace pitcher Juan Marichal has responded to treatment for his thigh injury and might be able to take his regular turn on the mound Friday.

From Japan came the word that the Japanese commissioner of baseball says left-hander Masanori Murakami should pitch this season for the Giants with whom he signed a contract.

The Giants scored four runs in the third inning yesterday off veteran Bob Buhl. Chuck Hiller batted for pitcher Gaylord Perry, who worked three scoreless innings, and singled. Pagan and Hal Lanier followed with one-base blows, the latter scoring Hiller.

Buhl walked Matty Alou before Willie Mays singled home two runs and another scored on a sacrifice fly. A 430-foot triple to centerfield by rookie catcher Randy Hundley and a single by Pagan brought a fourth inning run.

Ron Santo's two-run triple highlighted a three-run uprising by Chicago in the fifth and young Roberto Pena tripled in two Cubs in the ninth tying the game.

MARICHAL MAY PITCH ON FRIDAY

PHOENIX, Ariz. AP—Trainer Frank Bowman of the San Francisco Giants said yesterday that pitcher Juan Marichal's injured leg has responded to treatment and he may be able to work Friday as scheduled.

Marichal suffered a pulled hamstring muscle during Monday's drill. Examination indicated there was no swelling and no internal bleeding.

He's doing very well and may be ready to pitch on Friday, said Bowman.

Tiny Bone Chip Removed From Aaron's Ankle

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A tiny bone chip was removed from the ankle of Milwaukee Braves slugger Henry Aaron today at Milwaukee Hospital, and Dr. Bruce Brewer reported that X rays showed ankle function now is normal.

Dr. Brewer said Aaron would remain at the hospital for a week and be in a cast for about three weeks, but would be running "in about a month."

The Braves said that indicated Aaron might be on hand for the National League opener against Chicago April 15 at County Stadium.

Warriors Win One, 115-107

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors need a victory over the second-place St. Louis Hawks tonight to avoid the unpleasant distinction of losing more than any other National Basketball Association team in a single season.

The Warriors rallied from a 17 point deficit last night to overcome the Philadelphia 76ers 115-107. The victory was only the Warriors' 16th of the season and their second in their last 18 games.

The hapless San Franciscans avoided setting a new NBA loss record by taking the victory. The Warriors have lost 62 outings, which ties the old mark.

Guy Rodgers with 29 points and 11 assists led San Francisco to the triumph — breaking a string of five losses. Midway through the second quarter the Warriors were down 50-33.

The Warriors have yet to win a game against the Hawks this season and the season's test match between the teams will be a test of San Francisco's determination to avoid the loss record.

Tough Road To Playoffs For Seals

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

They are getting down to the old "do-or-diers" in the Western Hockey League, with Victoria and San Francisco currently under the gun.

The two teams, just a single point apart in their fight for a berth in the playoffs, face tough opposition tonight. The Maple Leafs, presently holding the advantage, go against league-leading Portland while San Francisco hosts second place Seattle.

The Vancouver Canucks strengthened their hold on third place yesterday by deafeating the Los Angeles Blades, 5-2, in the only contest played. The victory increased Vancouver's lead over Victoria to five points.

The Blades grabbed a 2-1 lead over the Canucks in the first period but then went down to their fifth straight defeat as Vancouver rallied to tie it in the second period and score three goals in the third.

Trent Beatty, an alternate wingman for Vancouver, got two goals in the final session and the other was scored by Billy McNeill, who also picked up an assist. McNeill now has 81 points—one less than Seattle's Guyle Fielder, the league's leading scorer.

Chandler Turns To Football

CLEVELAND (AP) — Former baseball commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler is expected to be named commissioner of the new Continental Football League, the Cleveland Plain Dealer said in its Wednesday edition.

Owners of the 10-team league are meeting in Washington, D.C., where Chandler was reached by phone last night.

Chandler, 66, who served two terms as governor of Kentucky, was baseball commissioner from 1945 to 1961 and has been practicing law in Versailles, Ky.

Too Many Deer At Yosemite National Park

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK (AP) — Officials at Yosemite National Park have asked the California Fish and Game Department to authorize two special deer hunts on federal lands near the park.

They say Yosemite has a deer over-population problem.

Supt. John C. Preston, in an announcement today, said unless the state permits post season hunts, his park rangers will be forced to kill deer within the park itself.

Suggested dates for the proposed hunts are between Nov. 13 and Jan. 2, 1966.

Preston said several studies have shown grazing lands in the park are being depleted and the herds are in poor condition.

Those N.Y. Yankees Look Just As Strong As Ever

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Nine American League clubs have been keeping an anxious watch on baseball developments in the Fort Lauderdale, Fla., area this spring. The news, so far, is all bad.

Item: CBS tops the Grapefruit Circuit with a perfect rating.

Item: Whitey Ford's new left arm may be an improvement on the original.

Item: Mickey Mantle has the tape-measure gang on the run.

Item: Young Yankees carry big bats, too.

The New York Yankees, getting set to open their bid for an unprecedented sixth straight pennant, scored five runs in the bottom of the ninth inning and edged Pittsburgh 6-5 yesterday at Fort Lauderdale for their fifth exhibition victory without a loss.

The triumph over the previously unbeaten Pirates left the CBS-owned Yankees — and manager Johnny Keane — with the only perfect spring mark in the majors.

Ford and Mantle, physical question marks two weeks ago, continued to make healthy contributions while four rookies came up with key hits in the ninth inning uprising.

Ford, making his second exhibition appearance after undergoing surgery on his pitching shoulder, blanked the Pirates on two hits over the first four innings. The 36-year-old southpaw has not been scored on and has allowed only four hits in seven innings.

Mantle hit his second spring homer, a 440-foot drive over the left field fence, and patrolled his old center field post with no apparent strain on his injury-prone knees.

Trailing 5-1 in the ninth, the Yankees knotted the score on run-scoring singles by Arturo Lopez and Roger Repoz and Billy Madden's two-run triple. Mike Hegan then delivered the winning run with his third hit of the game.

Ralph Terry, an ex-Yankee, turned in a masterful pitching performance for the Cleveland Indians. The veteran right-hander worked six scoreless innings, allowing two hits, as the Indians stymied the Los Angeles Angels 7-0. Rocky Colavito, obtained from Kansas City during the winter, led the Cleveland attack with two homers.

Frank Howard and John Kennedy, principals in a trade between Washington and the Los Angeles Dodgers, also sparkled for their new clubs. Howard's two-run homer helped the Senators down the Chicago White Sox 7-5 and Kennedy had three hits in the Dodgers' 5-1 victory over St. Louis.

Ninth-inning bursts won for Detroit, San Francisco, Baltimore and the New York Mets.

The Tigers overcame Houston 5-4 on Gates Brown's two-run double; the Giants nipped the Chicago Cubs 6-5 on Jose Pagan's RBI single and the Orioles snapped a three-game losing string when rookie Paul Blair, who had hit a two-run homer earlier, stroked a run-scoring single for a 4-3 victory over Milwaukee.

The Mets, beaten three times by one run, turned the tables on Cincinnati's B squad when Ron Hunt stole home for a 5-4 decision.

The Reds' first-stringers whipped Kansas City 6-3, with catcher John Edwards collecting a homer, double and two singles. Outfielder Alex Johnson clubbed two homers and two singles in Philadelphia's 8-4 victory over Minnesota.

MARIN PREP SPORTS

2 Ties In Baseball Action

By ALLEN KELLY

Marin County High School athletes continued their pre-season practices yesterday despite damp grounds, cold and darkness.

Marin Catholic and Drake baseball teams had to settle for ties because of shadows across the ballpark, standing firm against Montgomery and Hogan 6-6 and 7-7, respectively. Redwood took its first loss in four games, bowing to Petaluma 12-4 on the northern diamond.

In track and field events Marin varsity teams fell behind, with Salesian over Marin Catholic in a dual meet and El Cerrito pulling away from both Redwood and Alameda in a three way meet.

Marin Catholic runners in the Class B division moved up to take Salesian 58-55, but the strong El Cerrito trackmen still pushed ahead even in the lower class of the triangular affair to give their school a sweep.

One highlight for Redwood, however, came when senior Mike McCauly took the 880 in 1:58.4 to break a school record for Redwood set in 1963 by Randy Keller.

At poolside, Tam swimmers in the varsity division lost to Montgomery mermen 53-42, in Santa Rosa, while the Drake varsity team took College of Marin 55-38.

In Class B, Tam beat Montgomery 57-29.

Tennis court action saw Marin teams ahead in all action, with Tam defeating El Camino 5-3, Drake over Petaluma 3-2 and San Rafael whitewashing Vallejo 5-0.

The Marin Country Club and the Mill Valley municipal golf course were the scenes of action between San Rafael and Drake and Terra Linda and Tamalpais. San Rafael whitewashed Drake 6-0, while Tam eased by the Terra Linda golfers 3½-2½.

Pancho To Coach U.S. 'Cup' Team

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Veteran tennis star Pancho Gonzales was given the mission of returning the Davis Tennis Cup to the United States in 1965 at a press luncheon here yesterday.

George R. MacCall, non-playing captain of the team, announced Gonzales would be its new coach and called on him to develop a team that could take the international cup away from its present possessor, Australia.

Gonzales was successful in a similar expedition for this country two years ago and MacCall said Gonzales still "has all the equipment needed for this job."

MacCall also released a roster of players from which the team will be chosen—headed by Dennis Ralston. He called Ralston the team's No. 1 candidate.

Other prospective players include veterans Chuck McKinley and Ham Richardson, provided they can get leaves of absence from their work for the Cup competition beginning next May in France.

Also candidates are Arthur Ashe, Frank Froehling, Ronald Holmberg, Gene Scott, Allen Fox, Cliff Richey, Marty Riessen, Clark Graebner, Charles Pasarell, Bill Bond and Tommy Edlefsen.

Big Card In Boxing Tourney

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Defending welterweight champ Don Cobb of St. Louis faces AAU champion Jesse Valdez of Fort Worth and heavyweight sluggers Jerry Quarry of Los Angeles and James Jones of Billings, Mont., collide in the top quarter-final bouts tonight in the 38th National Golden Gloves Boxing Tourney.

Cobb polished off his first opponent with an easy decision. Valdez used his wicked left hook for a knockout victory. Both drew first-round byes Valdez, 17, has lost only two fights in two years.

Quarry scored two first-round knockouts, using a terrific left hook each time. The bruising Jones used a rocking right hand for a pair of knockouts. The 6-foot, 185-pound Quarry, who intends to turn pro, is only 19 but has had 120 fights.

Tonight's 32-bout card — all in one ring — will eliminate 32 fighters, leaving 32 for the semi-finals and finals Friday — four in each of eight classes. Thursday is a day of rest.

A crowd of about 4,500 in 10,000-seat Municipal Auditorium saw 24 knockouts on a 74-bout card in three rings, completing the first two rounds in the four heaviest classes.

OAKLAND FIGHT

Hank Looks Back On His Failures

By JACK STEVENSON

OAKLAND (AP) — Henry Hank, the slugging light heavyweight from Detroit, candidly admits he trained very little in winless 1964 and figures it's time to get down ot some serious work.

He has almost slipped completely from the top 10 ratings but gets a chance to improve his status Friday night in a 10-rounder at the Oakland Auditorium.

The poetry - reciting battler faces Roger Rouse, the California 175-pound champion and a man ranked No. 6 contender by the World Boxing Assn. and No. 7 by Ring Magazine.

Hank holds only the No. 10 spot in the latest WBA list with Ring not ranking him. After all, he drew with Johnny Persol and lost on a technucal knockout to Bob Foster in his only 1964 outings, and hasn't won since July 20, 1963.

That was the year of Henry's big disappointment. Scheduled to box Harold Johnson for the title, Hank suffered a broken nose in training and Willie Pastrano got the shot instead. Willie won a decision and, says Henry, "He wouldn't fight either Johnson or me."

"I was disgusted," Henry snorted." Disgusted with a fight game in which the champion can duck and dodge the top contenders. So I didn't do much. Last year I lived off what I had made.

"Then this opportunity to fight Rouse came up and I decided I wanted to try to put myself together. You know, I never really trained. I figure if I train, even just a small amount, I can win this title."

An ex - middleweight, Hank will weigh in at about 175 for Friday's fight indicating he still has some hard training to do to reach a peak fighting trim of 167-170. Ex - lightweight champion Lew Jenkins, recently retired from the Army, is helping put Hank through his paces.

It could be the strategy of the Rouse camp to maintain a fast boxing pace to determine if Hank has the Stamina to go a full 10. And anybody forgets that Persol, who drew with Henry, fell to Rouse in the first round last Nov. 23.

Hank says, "I'm going out to win the rounds until I can catch him .And I'm going to try to catch him as fast as I can."

The winner could gain a money bout against either Bobo Olson, former middleweight champion and Northern California favorite, or Wayne Thornton, the No. 1 contender from Fresno, Calif.

In his vision, the Detroit fighter sees a vcitory over Rouse, some training before meeting Olson or Thornton and then a fight with Pastrano.

"I hope he finds it in his heart to give me a chance," says Hank. "I think he's afraid of my punching but I'd like to talk to him and explain that actually I gave him the chance to win his title.

"When I was hurt, I could have asked a postponement, but I was glad to let him step in. I thought 'go ahead and let 'em fight and then I'll get the winner.'

"But that's not the way it worked out."

Novato's Swimming Schedule

The Hornets mermen, coached by Randy English, will open the 1965 league slate Friday with a home meet against the Drake High Pirates, 4 p.m. Since it will be the first year of competitive swimming at Novato, the Hornets are not expected to be strong contenders for the championship.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN

Expensive Plumage At Peacock; Casper And Hard; What's Next?

When Jerome Draper wants something he goes right after it. Money, obviously, is no object in his demands for the finest. He travels first cabin.

The developer of Peacock Gap has hired Billy Casper as golf professional for the East San Rafael golf and country club. This is comparable to Helen Gray hiring Audrey Hepburn to model some chic little get-ups at Moderne Eve, for Casper is pro golf's biggest money winner this year.

But, don't get the idea Billy will slave away at Peacock's pro shop, selling putters and loud sweaters, giving the dear ladies golfing tips and collecting greens fees.

Rather, he'll merely be window dressing for the multi-million dollar Draper development — the "touring pro." That is, the wire services will identify him as "Billy Casper of Peacock Gap, Calif." However, he will make appearances here from time to time to conduct clinics and exhibitions. And collect his paycheck — a $10,000 per year retainer, plus extra cookies in his lunchbox for prestigious tournament victories.

We at the I-J already are looking forward to the "local boy makes good" stories. "Billy Wins U.S. Open" would make a fine local angle for our pages.

CASPER, AS we said before, is Mr. Got-Rocks in the follow-the-sun brigade. I know, Doug Sanders is the "official" money leader by PGA standards, but Casper is ahead of him in total tournament winnings and you can spend the unofficial stuff — like his $15,000 first prize in the Bob Hope Tournament — just as easily.

As of this writing, Casper has won $35,921 this year. Hmm, let's see, that averages out to about $3,250 per week!

So you see, when Mr. Draper dolls up his Peacock spread, he uses pretty expensive plumage.

An early indication of Draper's exquisite tastes came last year when he hired Darlene Hard as the women's tennis pro at Peacock. Miss Hard is big, big, big in women's tennis circles.

With Darlene and now Casper on the payroll, there seems no limit to Peacock's potential as a first rate sports and recreation development. A haven for name-droppers.

IF THE little tykes in the neighborhood want to learn to box, I wouldn't be surprised to see Mr. Draper hire Cassius Clay.

Nor would it surprise me to find Don Schollander splashing around in the Peacock pool someday. What a life guard HE'D be!

Draper happens to be a rugby fan, so it was no surprise to his friends to see a rugby club — and a good one, naturally — organized at Peacock.

This can go on and on. Little League (Willie Mays, manager), football (Ara Perseghian, coach), etc., etc. and etc. And for the Peacock Yacht Club, wouldn't the America's Cup look lovely on a local mantle?

When Mr. Draper looks out over his Peacock development and contentedly sighs, "How green was my valley," he doesn't mean the fairways, Buster. He's talking about his payroll.

One last though: Peacock Gap is a "club" and every club has a president and . . . oh, no, he wouldn't, would he? Of course not. LBJ is just too busy.

But don't be surprised.

LAST WEEK, in discussing a big depression in the playing field of College of Marin's new baseball park, I mentioned that they're blaming the contractor and/or architect. Maybe it's not their fault at all. Maybe it's San Andreas' fault.

BILLINGS-HUTCHISON Builders, Marin's premier semi-pro baseball club, lost four top men this week when pitchers Ron Cole and Steve Miller, shortstop Jerry Ard and catcher Larry Smoot left for professional spring training camps. Cole, Miller and Ard are property of the Houston Astros and Smoot belongs to the L.A. Dodgers.

However, the Builders' pitching staff received a big boost with the return of veteran lefty Bob DeRosa, a big winner in the past.

Everson Heads Power Squadron

John H. Everson of Sleepy Hollow has been elected commander of the Marin Power Squadron for 1965.

Robert M. Kell was named lieutenant commander and James M. Corbet first lieutenant. Frank Schall will serve as secretary and John H. Keefe Jr. as treasurer, with Henry B. Hulett as squadron education officer.

George Swift, Richard Boss and Charles Keyes were named to the squadron's board of directors.

The power squadron members teach four classes in water navigation at the College of Marin.

Sausalitan Entered

Eric Dahlstrom of Sausalito will be competing in the national American Motorcycle Assn. 200-mile road race in Florida on March 27.

Olympic Films Will Be Shown

Marin Athletic Club will present a double bill of Olympic films, both in color, Friday and Saturday nights in Olney Hall at the College of Marin campus in Kentfield. The show starts at 8 o'clock both nights.

One film is entitled, "The 1964 Olympic Games, Track and Field," and the other is "Grand Olympics," a film of the 1960 Olympic games in Rome. Price of admission is $1 per person.

Proceeds will go toward sending some of the Marin A.C.'s top runners to the national meets this year.

JUDY GOODMAN
"Astonished"

BECKY OAKS
"Mostly lonely"

Girls Tell Of Life In Colombia

"I find that here I'm the most lonely when I'm in a room full of people and everyone but me can speak Spanish. It's really terrible sometimes.

"It's okay to be in a room of people who speak Spanish when the center of attention is you, but when it's not, it's pretty bad."

These comments were written by Becky Oaks, Tamalpais High School junior, who is an exchange student in Bogota as is Judy Goodman, also a Tamalpais junior. Both girls are of Mill Valley.

The girls, according to Nancy Gerrard, journalism student, have studied Spanish two and one-half years at Tamalpais.

Judy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Goodman of 45 Thalia Street, lives in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Tiberio Guaqueta. Becky, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. G. Russell Oaks, 102 Valley Circle, lives with Mr. and Mrs. Leguizamon.

Ether, daughter of the Guaquetas, and Mario, son of the Leguizamons, are to come to Mill Valley this month. Miss Guaquetas will live with the Goodmans and attend College of Marin and Mario will live with the Oaks and attend Tamalpais High.

Both Mill Valley girls are in exchange programs made possible by their parents. They live in the capital city, Bogota, where they attend a private all girls school.

The junior class consists of 12 girls including the American girls. The school day starts at 8 a.m. and ends at 4:55 p.m., with Colombian students taking 18 different subjects per week.

Judy reports she was "astonished" to find that it is not customary for Colombian men to help in the home. They make the living outside the home and any household chores are left to the women. However, said Judy, maids are also customary for Colombian women.

"Most Colombians tend to dress, act and live like North Americans," according to Becky. "Yet, the line is drawn at acting like North Americans. According to tradition, Colombian girls don't work outside the home or go out with boys unchaperoned."

"Some families," she said, "are more liberal and they allow their daughters more privileges."

TB Group Approves Budget

Directors of the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn. yesterday approved a $37,161 budget for the fiscal year beginning April 1, and named William D. Fusselman of San Anselmo as association treasurer.

Fusselman, longtime county supervisor and now a vice president of Tiburon National Bank, will take over April 1, succeeding Clifford Bartlett, who has resigned.

E. Warren McGuire, Christmas Seal sale campaign chairman, reported the annual seal sale has brought in $41,130. Of this, $7,012.50 must be sent to national tuberculosis and health programs. Interest and memorial gifts, however, raise the local total to $37,739, enough to finance the budget.

A program for the new fiscal year, outlined by Dr. Joseph J. Alderson, association president, was approved by the board.

Annual meeting of the association will be on April 5 at Sabella's Restaurant in Alto.

Contra Costa means opposite coast. Originally, this name was applied to the entire shore of San Francisco Bay opposite the Peninsula.

Kentfield Post Office Work To Begin

Work on a new Kentfield Post Office is expected to start in two weeks and be completed within 90 days of the start, United States postal authorities in San Francisco said today.

The post office, to be located next to the Eat and Run Drive In at 830 College Avenue, will be leased by the government at $6,400 a year from the owner of the property, Dr. Ethel Righetti.

Postal real estate officer Lawrence Guay said agents for Dr. Righetti told him work would start in two weeks. He estimated cost of the building to Dr. Righetto at $35,000. The lease runs for 10 years with two five-year options.

The building is to be a one-story strucure covering an area of 2400 square feet, with public parking in front and parking for government and employees vehicles in the rear.

Syrup Gives Added Tang To Gingercake

The nights are still crisp and cold but the days become sunny and warm when the sap begins to run in the maple trees. The trees must then be tapped to remove the sap before buds form.

Vermonters learned from the Indians how to make syrup and today both amateurs and commercial manufacturers use much the same techniques. After the sap is removed from the trees, it is boiled, evaporating the water and producing the bright, clear syrup.

MAPLE GINGER GLOW CAKE
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, softened
1 cup water
1 (14-ounce) package Gingerbread mix
1 egg, separated
¾ cup flaked coconut
¾ cup maple syrup
⅛ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon cream of tartar
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Add butter and ½ cup water to mix. Blend; beat ½ minute on low speed of mixer. Add remaining water and egg yolk; beat ½ minute on low speed. Fold in ½ cup coconut. Pour into greased 1½ quart ring mold or bowl with funnel in center.

Bake in preheated moderate oven (350°F.) 40 to 45 minutes or until done. Cool 10 minutes in pan; turn out onto rack; cool completely.

Cook maple syrup over medium heat without stirring until ½ teaspoon dropped into 1 cup very cold water forms a soft ball when enrolled between fingers. This takes about 10 minutes. Remove from heat while making test. Meanwhile, add salt and cream of tartar to egg white and beat until stiff. Add hot syrup, pouring in a thin stream while beating at high speed. Continue beating until thick, pale and fluffy. Beat in lemon juice. Spread over cake. Toast remaining ¼ cup coconut and sprinkle over cake. Makes 1 cake.

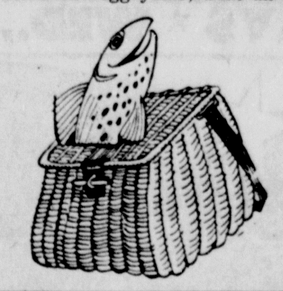
Salmon, Cottage Cheese Make For Dish High In Protein Value

We admit to having been slightly skeptical when the following recipe came our way. The idea of putting together salmon and cottage cheese in a cracker crust didn't entrance us, but because an epicurean friend had highly recommended the dish, we gave it a try.

Was our skepticism misplaced! This Salmon Souffle Pie turned out to be, just as our friend said, "A really good recipe — one of the best. Economical and high in protein." The only note we can add is that its making is foolproof.

SALMON SOUFFLE PIE
1 cup fine unsalted cracker crumbs (25 2-inch crackers)
¼ cup butter or margarine, melted
⅛ plus ¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon dry dill weed or basil
1 can (7¾ ounces) salmon
1 cup small-curd creamstyle cottage cheese
3 eggs, separated
½ cup heavy cream
2 tablespoons flour
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon chopped chives fresh or freeze-dried
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Stir together the cracker crumbs, melted butter, ⅛ teaspoon salt and dill weed. Press over bottom and sides (up to rim) of a buttered 9-inch glass pie plate; reserve. Turn salmon (including liquid and bones) into a mixing bowl; add cottage cheese and egg yolks; beat until well-mixed. Stir in cream, flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, pepper, chives and lemon juice. Beat egg whites until they hold stiff, straight peaks; fold into salmon mixture. Turn into reserved crumb crust; bake on a low rack in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for 35 minutes; remove and let stand for 5 to 10 minutes so center will finish setting. Serve at once. Makes 4 large servings.



NOTE: You may use any grade of salmon you wish in this recipe. (AP)

Easy Noodles With Peas Different Flair For Lent

Bought noodles, instead of homemade, are used in this dish.

Easy Noodles with Peas
Crisp Salad Bowl Brown Bread
Fruit Beverage

EASY NOODLES WITH PEAS
1 package (10 ounces) frozen-in-a-pouch baby peas in butter sauce
1 package (8 ounces) broad noodles
1 egg yolk, well beaten
¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese
Salt and freshly ground pepper

Drop pouch of peas into enough boiling water (about 3 cups) to cover. Bring to a boil; boil, uncovered, for 14 minutes, turning several times. Meanwhile cook noodles according to package directions; drain; toss with egg yolk. Remove peas from cooking water; open pouch and pour peas over noodles, tossing lightly to mix. Sprinkle with Parmesan and pepper to taste. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Fills That Bill

As a salad to serve with a cheese fondu or souffle, you'll find tomato aspic with marinated artichoke hearts fills the bill.

Savory Marinade For Celery

As any weight-conscious eater knows, celery is a boon. At our house we often serve it "as is" and put it on the table the moment we sit down. Several ribs and a lot of munches later, we're content to resist second helpings of other calorie-laden foods. Try this and see!

Lately we've fallen in love with marinated cooked celery. We call this Jar Celery because the amount given in the following recipe just fits into one of those pleasant wide-mouth jars that are both easy to store in the refrigerator and to delve into.

For the wine vinegar in the marinade, you may use red or white. The white wine called for should be dry; an American chablis is fine, and you may, if you like, buy it in a half-bottle size.

JAR CELERY
1 large stalk green celery
2 tablespoons olive oil
2 tablespoons wine vinegar
½ cup dry white wine
¼ teaspoon instant minced garlic
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
Dash of cayenne
1 teaspoon minced parsley
¼ teaspoon thyme leaves
½ cup water

Trim leaves from celery; separate ribs from heart — there should be 10 large ribs; serve heart some other way. Wash and drain ribs; cut into ½-inch thick diagonal slices to make 5 cups.

In a deep 10-inch skillet, mix together the remaining ingredients; add the celery. Cover and boil gently until tender-crisp about 20 minutes. Turn into a wide-mouth 20-ounce (2½ cups) jar; celery will shrink during cooking, so along with the marinade it should just fill the jar. Press down celery lightly if necessary to have marinade cover it. Cover jar and chill for 6 hours, overnight or several days before serving.

Serve celery as part of an antipasto or salad; or as a relish with meat, poultry, fish or egg dish.

Note: If you want real tang, make the dash of cayenne called for the amount that can be lifted upon the tip of a knife.

Cupful of Crumbs

Two slices of bread should make about a cup of soft crumbs.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Parties To Precede Showing

By MOLLY MARIN

Several parties will be given in Sausalito tonight preceding the showing at Campbell Hall of the colored slides taken by the William Pomeroys on their 20-month around-the-world cruise on their yacht, the "Nereus."

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baker Jr. will have as their guests for dinner Dr. and Mrs. George Johnson of San Francisco, who have just returned from Africa and five months in Europe. The Bakers, who were abroad last year, saw the Pomeroys in April at the Greek Island of Rhodes when the "Nereus" was there.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Merrill Jr. have invited three guests from San Francisco to dinner, and the Bernard Gratamas will have a buffet dinner for 12 guests.

FIRST NIGHTERS who attended the opening session of Saturday Night's dinner dancing at Peacock Gap Country Club included the Bud McKeans who had as their guests the Carleton Whites of Tiburon and were celebrating their wedding anniversary. Dr. and Mrs. Franz Baumann of San Francisco came with a party of 26, and a group of residents from Peacock had dinner. They included the Thomas Brownlees, the Charles Ditters and the Art Goods.

Joining the Samuel Wrights Jr. at a table were the Gordon Dohemanns of San Rafael and the Tom Dorsts of Tiburon.

The John Sharps III of Mill Valley entertained, as did the Victor Nutes of Larkspur.

NOTES FROM the opening of the Tennis Club in Mill Valley yesterday afternoon . . . The many fashionable new spring outfits at one of the first gala events of the season in Mill Valley — features of the new clubhouse drawing special attention — the impressions of spaciousness and of size of the clubhouse which seems much larger than it actually is in comparison with the old clubhouse. Above all, the sensational roof and graceful arches—

Appealing to house-wifely instincts—a new dishwasher that completes in cycle in two and a half minutes, making possible the handling of 500 dishes an hour. Finally — a bit of nostalgia for the old clubhouse among longtime members, such as Mrs. Stewart Bostwick, who was one of the founders of the club in 1929.

ACTRESS COMMENTS

French Woman Treats Husband As King

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — "The French woman is perfect with men—and perfectly beastly with other women."

Thus does Olivia de Havilland wife of a Frenchman, describe the basic character as she reads it of the women of her adopted country and why les femmes have a reputation for charming the opposite sex.

Said Miss de Havilland, "The Frenchman's family life and home are the most important part of his life.

"The French woman is queen because she runs a kingdom for the king—her husband."

The actress, wife of Pierre Galante, an executive editor of Paris Match, cited the differing approaches of the American woman and her French counterpart by saying:

"If the American couple is dining out, the wife will say forthwith and specifically where they will go.

"The French woman will know definitely where she'd prefer to dine. But she suggests one restaurant she actually dislikes, and the husband will say no. Then she mentions another she doesn't like and again he will say no. Then she mentions a third, which she preferred in the first place, and by this time he is feeling so guilty he will acquiesce.

"The Frenchman was born protesting and dies protesting."

Miss de Havilland, of English heritage but reared in the United States, has lived in Paris since her marriage to Galante in 1955. Her book, "Every Frenchman Has One," recounts some of her experiences as an American wife in the French capital.

In an interview here, the award winning Miss de Havilland commented that life in France is more complicated day to day than life in the United States. Although the French home now has many labor savers.

"But to operate an American made washing machine," she said, "I had to figure out the instructions in French, and then get them translated into Spanish for a servant not yet familiar with French."

Miss de Havilland was born in Tokyo, the daughter of an international patent attorney.

New Mannequin President Also Actress, Auctioneer

Mannequin League of Marin has elected Mrs. Richard O'Brien of San Rafael as its new president.

She has been a member of the league for three years and is secretary of the Lucas Valley Guild of Sunny Hills and of Pixie Parents. Virginia is scheduled to appear in the lead role of "Critic's Choice," which will open in April with the Ross Valley Players.

She and her husband are the parents of three boys, Bradley Martin, 3, Richard Hannan, 5, and Barry James, 8, and have resided in Marin for six years. They are on the coordinating council for the Dixie School District.

A frequent fashion show commentator, Virginia also enjoys part-time auctioneering to raise money for Sunny Hills. She attended Western Reserve University in Cleveland, Ohio, where she majored in drama. This interest in little theater is reflected in her board membership and support of the Ross Valley Players.

League members are presently planning for the main fundraising event of the year, the Mannequin League Ball on May 15 at Peacock Gap, which will benefit Muscular Dystrophy.

Guild Plans Lunch With Floral Theme

Floral Fantasy is the theme selected for the salad bowl luncheon to be held at 12:30 p.m. on March 24 by the Women's Guild of Blessed Sacrament Church at the parish hall.

Mrs. Leno Franzini is general chairman and assisting her will be Mesdames John Hossfeld and Ted Linzey, reservations; Lawrence Rees, Joseph Herrera, Robert deIongh, decorations; John Calhoon, tables; William Ryan, telephone; William Mazzina and James Gaffney, kitchen; and Joseph Anselmo and Howard Carlson, hostesses.

Luncheon proceeds will benefit Blessed Sacrament School.

Dr. Wells Honored For YWCA Efforts

San Francisco YWCA has named as volunteer of the month Dorothy E. Wells of Corte Madera, associate dean of students at San Francisco State College.

DOROTHY WELLS

Dr. Wells, a member of the YWCA since 1958, has served as vice president of the board of directors and chairman of the health, physical education and recreation and personnel committees. She also headed a special program study committee.

Currently Dr. Wells is a member of the YWCA's national commission to study the YWCA as a Christian movement. This commission was established at the YWCA's national convention in Cleveland last year. Its purpose is to help local YWCAs study the relationship between being both a Christian movement organization and a membership body open to persons of all faiths.

In addition to her YWCA work, Dean Wells serves both as an associate judge on the judicial court of the Associated Students and is chairman of the personnel committee for the Westminister Foundation of the Northern Coastal Area. This foundation is sponsored by the Presbyterian Church to work with religious organizations on university and college campuses.

Dr. Wells graduated from Berkeley High School, received a degree in physical education at the University of California and took her master's and doctorate in student personnel administration at Columbia University in New York.

Lamp Of The Future Described As Cordless With Dimmer Dial

What will the lamp of the future be like? It will probably be cordless, using a long-life rechargeable battery for power, and have a built-in dimmer switch so the user can dial the exact amount of light desired.

In addition, special lamps will be developed for outdoor use and for the specific purpose of lighting walls.

This is the forecast based on a survey in connection with the 1965 winter home furnishings market.

High-intensity lighting, the latest technological advance, evokes mixed emotions among lamp and shade makers. Some see it as a fad that will soon fade. Others see the future of high-intensity lighting restricted to utility lamps, such as lamps for decks, sewing, hobbies, and similar visual tasks requiring localized strong light.

The cordless lamp will come about when greater advances are made in the capacity and life of batteries. What's needed is a battery that will power a lamp of up to 200 watts for an average use of at least six months without re-charging.

From the feminine point of view, cordless lamps will represent not merely convenience but a real decorating breakthrough. At last, a woman will be able to arrange furniture any way she wishes, with complete disregard for the location of electrical outlets or fixtures.

Dimmer switches for lamps are already being sold separately, and it is only a matter of time before these switches are built into lamps. They will replace existing three-way switches, thus providing an infinite variety of settings from dim to full brightness.

"Most likely such switches will be used in higher-priced lamps at first, after which they'll work their way into popularly-priced models," the Institute believes.

On the design side, several manufacturers believe that new lamps will be styled to bridge the gap between indoor and outdoor lighting. At present outdoor lighting is almost always starkly utilitariam. Styling advances are forseen that will make outdoor lights as decorative in themselves as today's lamps are.

Swag lamps — the type that hang by chains — are seen as the forerunners of new types of wall lamps. One manufacturer notes that wall lamps are very popular in Europe. He forecasts greater use of such lamps in the U.S.

Another manufacturer points out that such wall lamps will not only be hung from walls, but will be designed to light the walls, thus displaying wall decor, including papers and fabric coverings, paintings, sculptured accessories, and the like.

Marin Board Backs Second Bridge Study

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday endorsed a bill by State Sen. J. Eugene McAteer, D-San Francisco, providing for studies of a second San Francisco-Marin crossing.

The bill, if enacted, would allow the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District to participate in financing such studies.

The board endorsed the bill by 3-1 vote, with Chairman Peter H. Behr dissenting because he objected to one of the recommendations included in the endorsement.

Behr opposed the recommendation that studies emphasize rapid transit rather than vehicular traffic.

The board also recommended that the bills be amended to call for studies including full consideration of recreational, community, aesthetic, park and historical values, state and local public facilities, city street and county highway traffic, property values and the impact on local tax rolls.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen urged study of the possibility of a second deck on the Golden Gate Bridge.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, who attended the opening of the meeting, left before the discussion.

Ambulance Company Might Try For Business Again

Marin Ambulance Co., which went out of business last week, may try again, its owner told the county board of supervisors yesterday.

Mrs. Rene Parker spoke as the board agreed to raise county reimbursement for emergency ambulance runs to $15 per call.

Previous rates were $7.50 for day calls and $10 at night. The policy covers cases where ambulance firms are unable to collect from patients.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said he asked County Administrator Alan Bruce to begin a study on ways the county could help lessen the financial squeeze on ambulance firms.

Mrs. Parker expressed approval of the rate hike. With her was a man whom she identified as a potential "angel" who may help put her firm back on its feet.

Field Trip Planned To Headlands

A conservation field trip to the Golden Gate headlands and Muir Woods will wind up the ninth biennial Wilderness Conference scheduled for April 2-4 at the San Francisco Hilton Hotel.

Sponsored by the Sierra Club, the conference will bring together some of the nation's top conservationists. Theme will be "Wilderness in a Changing World."

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-New Mex., a principal architect of the Wilderness Act, will make an opening day address. Other speakers will include Secretary of the Interior Stuart L. Udall and political analyst Albert Burke.

George Hartzog Jr., director of the National Park Service; Edward Cliff, chief of the U.S. Forest Service, and Edward Crafts, director of the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, will address the Saturday morning session on the significance of recent legislation such as the Land and Water Conservation Fund Act.

The headlands and Muir Woods trip will be on Sunday, April 4.

Eel River Assn. Funds Are Offered

Directors of Marin Municipal and North Marin Water Districts Monday informally agreed to aid the county in paying for a full membership in the Eel River Assn.

The boards of the two districts reiterated their stands that no new water district should be formed in the county, but took under advisement the question of whether either of them should also go into the sewage treatment business.

The board members decided to hold a joint meeting with members of the Local Agency Formation Commission to discuss problems of sewer service in the county.

A group of San Geronimo Valley residents have asked that the Marin Municipal Water District install a sewage treatment service for that area.

The county board of supervisors agreed recently to pay for a $500 associate membership in the Eel River Assn. A full membership costs $5,000. Last night, Marin Municipal District agreed to put up $3,000 and North Marin Water District pledged $1,500, which with the county's contribution will give Marin full voting membership in the association.

Both boards agreed to oppose the request before the formation commission for a waterworks district in the Nicasio area.

Ninth Overnight Parcel Post Center Starts

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The nation's ninth overnight parcel post delivery center was inaugurated in the San Francisco area yesterday.

Richard J. Murphy, assistant postmaster general, predicted the service would be nationwide by 1967.

Parcels carrying zip codes which are posted before 5 p.m. will reach post offices in 11 Northern California counties the next morning. In most cases, there will be home delivery service the same day.

The parcel post overnight service encompasses 275 post offices in San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Cruz, Santa Clara, San Benito, Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, Napa, most of Monterey and southern Solano counties as well as the cities of Santa Rosa, Sacramento and Stockton.

New Community Being Planned

CAMARILLO (UPI) — A corporation owned by three brothers of Mrs. Ethel Kennedy has completed purchase of the historic 4,615-acre Camarillo Ranch for community development.

Great Lakes Carbon Corp. announced that Great Lakes Properties Inc. signed an option on the Ventura County ranch and arranged for another subsidiary, Rancho Palos Verdes Corp., to acquire title to the property at the closing of escrow Monday.

The sale price announced last month was a reported $20 million.

The parent corporation is wholly owned by George, Rhinelton and James Skakel—brothers of the wife of Sen. Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y.

College Federal Funds Increasing

About $223,000 in federal money will be collected by the Marin Junior College District before the fiscal year ends this June, according to William J. Collins, vocational coordinator at College of Marin.

Collins, whose job includes investigation of federal funds, began his work after the current budget of $2,812,970 was adopted with an estimate of only $40,160 in federal funds.

That figure did not include part of the National Defense Education Act payments and none of the Manpower Development Training Act money. Federal money for a computer system which college trustees only recently decided to develop, was of course, not included in this year's budget either.

Collins, who made the estimate in a report for trustees, said the figure should climb higher, partly because of growth, but largely because the college will simply make more applications for money.

In some cases, it was found that slight changes in existing courses, such as auto shop, suddenly qualified them for federal money for vocational education, although Asst. Dean Irvin Colt said the changes in the courses were not designed specifically with federal funds in mind.

Instead, he said, the intent was to make the courses tougher, taking them out of the class of "industrial arts" offered in high school.

The largest single chunk of United States government money came to the district under the impacted area program, which effects all school districts in the county to some degree, but especially aids those with a military base inside its boundaries.

Collins said this figure can be expected to jump 30 per cent in the 1965-66 fiscal year from the present $69,000, largely because of new laws and increased enrollment.

The next largest amount is for the Manpower Development Training Act programs, $48,000, down slightly from the previous year.

This program is now funded 100 per cent by the federal government, but next year the college may have to pick up 10 to 25 per cent of the cost of courses training persons out of work for such jobs as gardeners, porters and clerks.

A total of $36,739 this year has been earmarked by Washington for the electronic data processing program on the Kentfield campus. That amount will drop next year, but will continue to pay part of the rental cost for computers.

Student workers on campus now can have 90 per cent of their salary paid by Uncle Sam, and $23,903 in federal funds for the work-study program was set aside for the spring semester alone under the economic opportunities act.

Next year the federal government will probably be asked to help build a planetarium on campus, Collins said. Money from Washington will also be used to build and equip the new science building, the marine biology station at Bolinas and possibly a health services building.

Other federal programs may aid with a program for mentally retarded students, for educational television and for a reading and a learning laboratory for preparation of audio-visual materials.

Prison's Auto Shop Helps Both Inmates, Taxpayers

San Quentin Prison's auto shop, which has been operating for 14 years, observed a milestone this month.

The one-thousandth car to be reconditioned at the shop came gliding out the gates, headed for the state auction house to be sold to the highest bidder. This one was a 1963 luxury convertible, all power-equipped, which had been confiscated in a narcotics arrest.

We share the pride of officials and men at the prison auto shop for this constructive activity, which benefits both the inmates and the state.

San Quentin, which pioneered in the field of providing trade skills for inmates, has had to face many obstacles. Many restrictions are placed on trades inside prisons so that private industries outside will be protected from competition from prison labor and skills.

These restrictions imposed by society force prison officials to turn to "make-work" activities that have little or no usefulness to keep the prison population active.

Even in the auto shop, except for the state-confiscated cars that come in for reconditioning, the job would consist of tearing down a car and putting it together again, and repeating the process endlessly.

But this program of having state-confiscated automobiles, many of them badly battered, reconditioned and put back into tip-top shape, must give the inmates the satisfaction of having accomplished something useful both to themselves and to society.

The battered cars, which would have drawn only a token price at auction, bring in substantial funds to the state coffers because of the meticulous care and craftsmanship put into their repair.

We salute the men of the auto shop, and those who originally conceived this constructive program, for a job well done.

FIREMAN RISKS LIFE TO SAVE WOMAN

To rescue an hysterical woman who threatened to jump out of her blazing 12th floor apartment, a New York fireman risked his life.

He and another fireman, unable to knock down the wood and metal door of the apartment, raced up to the 13th floor.

There, with one man holding the end of a hallway hose, the other threw the rest of it out the window and began to inch his way down to the screaming woman as she stood on the window sill, 120 feet above the ground.

The fireman restrained the panic-stricken woman until his colleagues finally battered down the door and brought both the woman and himself to safety.

Give your moral support to the public servants who are motivated by a sincere devotion to duty and who work for the best interests of everyone, often at considerable personal sacrifice.

By doing this you will not only bolster their morale and help them to add a divine incentive to their jobs, but you will encourage other civic workers to emulate them.

"Greater love than this no one has, that one lay down his life for his friends."

Tax Reform Very Necessary, But Will Unruh's Idea Work?

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Reformation of the property tax plan as suggested by Jesse M. Unruh, D-Los Angeles, speaker of the Assembly, which was outlined in a Sacramento speech recently, appears to be one of the logical solutions for an important change in the methods of extracting enough money from Californians to administer state governments and assist in the administration of local governments.

JUST HOW GOOD the plan is will never be known until it is tried, or for that matter, whether it will work or not. Just one thing is certain in the taxing business: Government will see to it that sufficient funds are diverted from business to government to pay the government bills.

Unruh suggests that decreases be effected on local tax, and that the balance be made up by further subsidy to local government from increases in state taxes.

He says the inventory tax and the personal property tax are inequitable and should be done away with. He has a point on both these local assessments, merely because both taxes are easy to reduce if one wants to take the trouble.

Much personal property can be hidden from the assessors, a practice which has led to percentage of real property taxes assessed, perhaps as an illegal assessment. Inventories on business can be and are reduced around March 1, which is assessment time, causing great loss of taxes to local government.

ELIMINATION OF these taxes, and the substitution of increased state taxes for their loss, would no doubt create a more equitable payment on the part of the citizenry, through income tax increases and a jump in the cigarette tax.

An additional cent on the sales tax would take care of most of the state's school problems, Unruh points out, and a corresponding drop would be made by local school districts in the amount they tax residents.

Of course, the danger in every tax reform lies in the fact that voracious government can't see a drop in taxes, but when a reform is enacted, it paves the way to keep the same old tax, or its equivalent, on the public. Thus, the people are paying for reforms and at the same time are paying the old rates, no matter how the cash is received.

REGARDLESS of whether Unruh's proposed tax reforms will work for the benefit of the people, they at least deserve a try, maybe with modifications. His proposals appear so far to be the only statesmanlike advances made in the 1965 Legislature so far. They are far from the political arena, and they apply to Democrat and Republican alike.

For even the politicians are beginning to recognize the fact that the taxes of California are beginning to be confiscatory. Already, the high rates of taxation are keeping industry out of this state, and these rates include both local and state taxation.

REFORM, THEREFORE, of one kind or another is necessary to correct this situation in the future and maintain the state as a Mecca for producers, rather than an area to be avoided.

Picture Use Is Questioned

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It was very dissapointing to see in your paper Thursday evening (March 11) the placement of the picture showing myself presenting awards from the Elks Club to local winners in our National Youth Leadership contest.

Here was an opportunity for you to bring to the attention of all teen-agers and their parents that there are outstanding students in our community....

It seems that whenever a few of our students do something a little wrong, it is covered completely on the front page or given a large heading in some other prominent spot. I hope I'm correct in my assumption that there are a great many more good youngsters in our community than the few in trouble and these teen-agers deserve recognition.

Let's capitalize on the virtues rather than faults of everyone, and I'm sure all of us will be the benefactors.

Support Urged For More Pay

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I wish to join my voice to M/Sgt. Charles L. Southern's, whose letter you printed on Friday, March 12, to urge everyone to write to Senators George Murphy and Thomas H. Kuchel and Congressman Don Clausen to vote in favor of the HR 5725 bill to raise the basic pay of members of our uniform forces and services.

After reading the article "Paupers in Uniform" in the March issue of the Reader's Digest, it becomes a duty for all of us to do something to remedy the scanty pay these men receive....

It would be a great saving to keep the trained men in the service rather than have to have new ones trained over again. Few can remain over their enlisted time as is, because they simply cannot make both ends meet, even with their wives working....

Police Get Backing From Marin Citizen

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I agree with Police Chief Kenneth Huck from Sausalito, and Sheriff Mountanos that it's time for the public to start supporting police officers in the performance of their duties instead of criticizing. Any little thing that happens, the police are called on for help, but the public seems to have no respect. It's a disgrace.

'Unruhfication' Idea Blasted

Editor, Independent-Journal:

After Unruhfication of the 189-square-mile Tam High District, our children may be put on a school bus and sent to other communities with or without parental consent, in order to utilize empty classroom seats or equalize racial imbalance.

Would it not be better to take the money required for buses and drivers' pay, and use it instead to improve the quality of education?

Let's Get Rid Of Litter

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Subject: How about a REAL GOLDEN GATEWAY?

Much has been written about tidyin up the freeway system here in Marin County....

To start with, a clean-up campaign should be in order. . . . As a first order of business, this litter should be removed and the highway posted with signs to announce a fine of $500 for each offense of litterbugging....

From the Black Point Cutoff to the Golden Gate Bridge, Highway 101 . . . should be a Parkway well landscaped its entire distance.

Perhaps if all Civic Groups would bear down on the State Highway Department as well as the Golden Gate Bridge Directors, sufficient funds would be appropriated to bring this desirable Highway beautification into being....

Through the use of proper Shrubbery alongside the open stretches and with a liberal use of Golden Poppy Seeds spread liberally elsewhere, together with Scotch Broom and Lupin and any other desirable wild folwers, this stretch of highway could be one of the great scenic Highways of America.

Perhaps the Garden Clubs and The Boy Scouts could lend a hand to bring this worth while project into being. If Public Subscriptions should be necessary to help bring this transition about, I am sure that the Citizens from near and far would gladly donate to a cause which would do so much for the entire County of Marin.

President Kerr Unable To Act

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In the March 8 issue of U. S. News and World Report, Dr. Robert E. Fitch refers to the "abdication of authority" as a symptom of an inherent weakness in our society and I could not help but associate this idea with the perplexing events at the University of California.

During the Free Speech Movement, I kept wondering where the President's voice was and where the expulsions and penalties I would have seen in educational institutions elsewhere in the country. Did Clark Kerr "abdicate" his authority? I do not think so. Rather, I believe that the forces of "liberty" or the bastardization of such are so strong and in such high places that he was unable to act.

Ironic it is that his resignation now seems so clownish, but then it is in keeping with the rest of the Berkeley scene. The latest "creeps" don't even belong to the Cal. community and yet look at the uproar and the attention they engendered! It is frighteningly silly!

Apparently the student and young adult groups (and I fall into that category) are floundering among causes, many of them good; but they are laboring under false premises and therefore these perversions of effort. Unknown to themselves, they are crying out in despair, isolated by their own rejection of authority, and it is a rejection encouraged by the rest of our society, for where indeed is a line of authority in our atmosphere where the "almighty me" is glorified and those poor, stupid fools who still believe in God are merely tolerated?

BENNETT CERF

THE UNITED STATES continues to subject incoming Presidents to attacks of pneumonia and worse by insisting that they take the oath of office outdoors in often foul midwinter weather in Washington. Ed Newman, however, points out gradual evolutions in the inauguration ceremonies.

IT WAS James Madison, for instance, who first resolved to wear only American - made clothes at his inauguration. Martin Van Buren introduced the ceremonial ride the length of Pennsylvania Avenue. William Henry Harrison spoke the longest—a solid hour and forty minutes in sub-zero cold. It's a wonder the crowd didn't demand his impeachment then and there!

McKINLEY'S inaugural address, incidentally, was the first covered by motion picture cameras; Coolidge's the first broadcast on radio, and Truman's in 1949 the first flashed on a TV network.

MAYBE KIDS study physics too early in life these days. Reprimanded by his mother for playing too close to the railing of the family's penthouse apartment, nine-year-old Mortimer reassured her, "Don't worry, mom! Mrs. Boyden told us in class last week that a man falling through the atmosphere near the earth never goes faster than 119 miles an hour!"

IN A MUCH-QUOTED literary exchange, F. Scott Fitzgerald is purported to have told Ernest Hemingway, "The very rich are different from you and me." To which Hemingway replied sourly, "Yes, they have more money."

Johnson Speaking With Actions Rather Than Words In Viet Nam

WASHINGTON—Every once in a while somebody wrings his hands and pleads that President Lyndon B. Johnson speak out on Viet Nam.

He is.

He is telling exactly what we are doing and why.

ON THE PREMISE that actions speak louder than words, the president is properly letting events tell their own story to the American people and deliver their own message to the aggressor.

Right now it is actions, not words, which are most needed.

That's what we are getting. And from every action the U.S. has taken in the nast six weeks President Johnson's keep-up-the-pressure, no-yield policy emerges crystal clear.

The crystal clear military policy is: There will be an ascending scale of air attacks deeper into North Viet Nam until Hanoi calls off the aggression. This decision has been firmly made. Its execution is its best announcement.

The crystal clear diplomatic policy is: The U. S. is prepared to go to the conference table the minute the Communists cease and desist. There will be no negotiation as long as the aggression continues. There will be no unwillingness to negotiate the minute the aggression is ended.

THE CRYSTAL-CLEAR political policy is: We seek no territory, no bases, no permanent military establishment in South Viet Nam. But we know from experience that a paper agreement guaranteeing the independence of South Viet Nam is not self-enforcing. Such an agreement was signed in 1954—and torn up by North Viet Nam. An American presence in Southeast Asia will be maintained so that the U. S. can join in guarding against future aggression.

Because this no-yield U. S. policy was slow in coming, it is understandable that many Americans — and the Asian Communists, too—were uncertain that the president really meant it.

The president has made his decision — to raise the controlled military pressure on North Viet Nam steadily until it achieves its end. This policy is visible in Viet Nam—North and South. There can be no turning back. It is visible in the air raids over North Viet Nam—and there will be more.

It is visible in related actions: The deployment of 3,500 Marines, the very elite of U. S. fighting forces; more air raids on Communist infiltration lines in Laos; enlarging the Seventh Fleet and strengthening U. S. naval patrols against North Vietnamese gunrunning; notice to Peking that there will be no "privileged sanctuary" if Red Chinese forces join the aggression.

THESE MEASURES have long been a part of Washington planning. They were delayed because of the exigencies of the presidential election. They were delayed because some high officials were fearful that mounting military pressure against North Viet Nam would massively alienate world opinion and would throw Red China and the Soviet Union back into each other's arms.

It has done neither.

There are, however, two immediate uncertainties.

The rate of the infiltration by North Vietnamese guerrilla forces is still going up. This means that the balance of forces on the ground is more adverse to the South Vietnamese than it has ever been.

So far the mounting military pressure against North Viet Nam has yielded no sign from Hanoi that it has any intention to end the aggression. Far more pressure will be needed. Whether the timetable for acceleration is fast enough remains to be seen.

BUT PURPOSE and policy are now clear beyond all doubt.

Viet Tribesmen Ready For Action

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — President Lyndon B. Johnson is being privately challenged to carry out in the rugged mountains of North Viet Nam his pledge "to defend freedom all over the world."

Tough tribesmen in the western and northern regions of North Viet Nam, who have successfully fought off Communist control, have appealed to the U. S. for arms and supplies to wage their own guerrilla warfare in the North.

Secret offers from these tribal leaders to launch "behind-the-lines" attacks against Hanoi's military forces and installations have reached U.S. authorities through refugees escaping from North Viet Nam in recent months.

THESE STRONGLY anti-Communist refugees, many of them Catholic, report that Moi, Muong and Nung Lose tribesmen are ready to strike at their would-be conquerors if given the arms and supplies necessary for sustained guerrilla operations.

Since Ho Chi Minh took over Hanoi, the independent tribesmen have courageously repulsed all attempts by the Communist regime to integrate their nearly half million people into the Red police state.

Word of U. S. air strikes in North Viet Nam and the successes of their U. S.-led and equipped Meo blood-brothers in South Viet Nam has given the mountain tribesmen their first hope in years that outside help may be available for their unpublicized fight against the Communists.

ACCORDING TO the refugees arriving in Saigon, the northern tribesmen have a religious-like belief that they can turn the tide in the Viet Nam war if supported by a steady airlift of weapons and food.

They stress there is growing unrest in the rural areas of North Viet Nam, including the densely populated Red River Valley in the mountainous regions where the tribesmen hold control and have their strongest forces.

With the help of a small number of U. S. and Vietnamese special forces, and weapons, food and a U. S. pledge of political freedom, the tribesmen contend they can light the spark to touch off a major uprising in North Viet Nam that could eventually topple the Red-ruled Hanoi regime.

THIS BOLD PLAN, discussed by President Johnson and his foreign policy advisers at their Camp David meeting last week, has the backing of a small group of officials within the Central Intelligence Agency, Defense Department, Congress and among the special U. S. forces in South Viet Nam.

It is opposed by Secretary of State Dean Rusk and McGeorge Bundy, the president's chief foreign policy adviser, who are strongly against any open or covert U. S. military action that might overthrow the Communist regime in North Viet Nam.

Supporters for aiding the tribesmen argue that the surest way to save South Viet Nam is to topple the Ho Chi Minh regime.

PRESIDENT Achmed Sukarno is beginning to act like a real dictator.

Under his orders, natives trying to flee to New Guinea from Indonesian rule are being publicly executed by his firing squads.

One Simple Suggestion Could Solve Golden Gate Span Woes

IT'S A MARVEL that no one has suggested it until now, what with all the problems the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District directors are having these days.

There is the mounting problem of traffic on the bridge. And there is the problem of people jumping off the bridge. Also a mounting one.

There are also the problems of devices to control traffic flow, commuter fare books, refunds, bus tolls and so on.

THE SOLUTION to all this —so simple it stuns the imagination—is simply to remove the bridge. Take it down.

Of course, removal might come as something of a shock to the Marin commuter driving to the city and finding that the bridge was no longer there.

Believe me, it would break up some well established habits. But the thing for the commuter to do would be just turn around and drive home, drink another cup of coffee and call the office.

WHAT BETTER excuse would a man want to stay home from work?

Removal of the bridge would provide several other benefits.

For one thing, the Northwestern Pacific Railroad would probably rebuild the Puerto Suello tunnel and re-establish service to the rail head at Tiburon in record time. Further nudging by judges and commission would not be necessary.

Also, traffic on the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge, embarrassingly light since it was built, would step up considerably. The present 75-cent toll for that span could undoubtedly be lowered with the increased traffic.

THAT HIGH TOLL, by the way, has been a thorn in the side of East Bay commuters for a long time.

So you see, removal of the Golden Gate Bridge is a pretty good idea.

Modesty forbids that I take all credit for the idea. The way things have been going, I think someone else might have proposed it before long.

AND IT HONESTLY did not take much thought on my part.

Strep Cases Lead Diseases

Streptococcal infections again led the list of causes of communicable disease reported in Marin County last week, Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, reported.

Sixty cases of streptococcal infections were reported, with concentrations of 13 in Mill Valley, 18 in San Rafael, and 17 in Novato.

Four cases of gonorrhea were reported in the county, seven cases of measles, six of mumps, and one each of pertussis, tuberculosis and salmonella.

Oldtime Sit-In-Er Is Complaining Where's To Sit After White House?

WASHINGTON — There was a great deal of criticism about the sit-in at the White House the other day, not only from the people who represent law and order in this country, but also from other sit-ins who were pretty mad about it.

"The discouraging thing," a bearded fellow who was sitting in front of the Department of Justice parking lot told me, "is those people who sat in at the White House were youngsters without any sit-in experience at all. The White House has always been considered the Mount Everest for sit-ins, an unattainable goal which we aspired to only in our wildest dreams.

"Most of us have come up through the ranks, some sitting down on campuses, others in restaurants, other in front of courthouses. But these kids, none over the age of 21, decided to sit in the White House.

"WHAT DO THEY have to look forward to after that? I think they made a mistake. They'll be ruined for life. They can only go down from there."

"You're not jealous of them, are you?" I asked him.

"Jealousy has nothing to do with it. But there were so many more sit-ins deserving of the honor—veterans of the University of California disturbances, ban-the-bomb demonstrations, the World's Fair sit-ins—that it doesn't seem right that these kids should have been allowed to sit at the White House."

"Perhaps it was just a spur-of-the-moment thing," I said. "Maybe they hadn't planned on sitting there until they got in. You can get pretty tired waiting in line to go through the White House."

"I BELIEVE it was planned. I think those kids just took the law into their own hands without consulting the rest of us. They're like American kids everywhere, impatient and impulsive. They figure, why should they sit on cold pavements in the rain like the rest of us? They're spoiled. They've had everything handed to them on a silver platter. They never sat hard for anything in their lives.

"Many of us have thought about sitting down in the White House, but none of us thought we had enough experience. It's one thing to sit down in Mayor Wagner's office or the U.S. attorney-general's office, but it's another to sit down in the home of the president of the United States."

I said, "From what you've heard about the sit-in in the White House, do you think they did anything that would hurt the sit-in movement?"

"DON'T GET ME wrong. I'm not criticizing the way they sat. From all I can gather, they had the right style and they didn't violate any of the rules. But it's like a Little League ball team deciding to play in Yankee Stadium without asking anybody. We've got plenty of places for them to sit so they can learn their trade. My fear is that a lot of sit-in demonstrators will be discouraged by what they did.

"They'll come home from Washington and their parents will say, 'Did you get to sit in the White House?' If they say they didn't, they'll lose face. Their parents will say, 'Do you mean I spent all that money to send you to Washington so you could sit in the mud in Lafayette Park?' "

"NOW THAT THE White House has been sat in and is no longer unconquerable, what is there left for sit-ins to look forward to?"

"I don't really know. There was talk that some of us might go down to the LBJ Ranch and sit in the barbecue pit, but it really isn't the same thing."

Wednesday, March 17 ..... B

Today is Wednesday, March 17, the 76th day of 1965 with 289 to follow. It is St. Patrick's Day.

The moon is full. The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Mars and Jupiter.

American golf champion Bobby Jones Jr. was born on this day in 1902.

On this day in history:

In 1897, James J. (Gentleman Jim) Corbett lost his heavyweight boxing crown to Bob Fitzsimmons at Carson City, Nev.

In 1898, John Holland's submarine -- said to be the first practical one in marine history -- was submerged off Staten Island, N.Y. It remained under water for almost one and three quarter hours.

In 1940, a ring of professional killers, known as "Murder, Incorporated," was uncovered in Brooklyn, N.Y.

A Thought for the Day — Novelist W. Somerset Maugham once said: "People ask you for citicism, but they only want praise."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Conceal Bad Break From Friendly Foe At Bridge

When playing bridge, remember that your opponents are nice people and may even be your friends.

If an opponent runs into a bad break, be kind. Conceal it from him. Let him have a few more moments of happiness before he discovers the bad news.

Opening lead — ♠ 10

West leads the ten of spades, and South wins with the jack and returns a low diamonds, letting it ride as a finesse to East.

GOOD EYES

Since we have good eyes, we can see that the diamonds are very sour indeed and that South will get no lasting happiness from tackling this suit.

Since this news would distress South, East should win the first diamond trick with the king rather than with the 10.

East returns a spade, and South wins with the ace in order to lead another diamond through West. This time East wins the ten of diamonds. Even a good friend must eventually break the bad news to South.

ONCE MORE

East returns his other spade, and South takes his third spade trick. By this time it is too late for South to look for another way to make his contract.

South tries the diamonds once more since there is a chance that each opponent started with three diamonds. He leads a club to the ace and cashes the ace of diamonds.

This plan fails to work, and South must go down.

WORTH NOTICING

It's worth noticing that East's kindness cost him nothing. If East won the first diamond with the ten, South might switch to clubs.

South could make four clubs, three spades and the red aces for a total of nine tricks. By winning the first diamond with the king East encouraged South to continue with a plan that was not going to work.

It pays to love your fellow bridge player.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one no-trump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ 6 5 3
♥ Q 9 2
♦ K Q 10 5
♣ 10 8 3

What do you say?

Answer: Pass.

You have only 7 points, so that the combined count is 23 to 25 points. Since partner needs about 26 points for game, there is no advantage in getting higher than one notrump.

When a Family Buys A Home in Central Marin . . . Where Do They Come From?

Latest Research* shows that 69.7% of home buyers in Central Marin are ALREADY LIVING in the County.

This is a ratio of MORE THAN 3½ to 1 than from San Francisco.

BUYER ORIGIN	%
Marin County	69.7
San Francisco	19.6

- The Prime Market then, for home sales, is Marin itself . . . and the I-J Classified "gets home" to the people who buy the MOST HOMES in Marin . . . Marin families themselves because the I-J covers 2 out of 3 homes in the County.
- The I-J daily circulation in Marin County is GREATER than that of the San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner COMBINED!!
- NO WASTE — NO HIGH-PRICED SPACE GOING TO NON-PRODUCTIVE AREAS.

When a Family Buys A Home in Northern Marin . . . Where Do They Come From?

Latest research* shows that 71.9% of home buyers in Northern Marin are ALREADY LIVING in the County.

This is a ratio of almost 5 to 1 MORE than from San Francisco.

BUYER ORIGIN	%
Marin County	71.9
San Francisco	14.6

- The Prime Market then, for home sales, is Marin itself . . . and the I-J Classified "gets home" to the people who buy the MOST HOMES in Marin . . . Marin families themselves because the I-J covers 2 out of 3 homes in the County.
- The I-J daily circulation in Marin County is GREATER than that of the San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner COMBINED!!
- NO WASTE — NO HIGH PRICED SPACE GOING TO NON-PRODUCTIVE AREAS.

When a Family Buys A Home in Southern Marin . . . Where Do They Come From?

Latest Research* shows that 65.9% of home buyers in Southern Marin are ALREADY LIVING in the County.

This is a ratio of MORE THAN 2 to 1 than from San Francisco.

BUYER ORIGIN	%
Marin County	65.9
San Francisco	31.9

- The Prime Market then, for home sales, is Marin itself . . . and the I-J Classified "gets home" to the people who buy the MOST HOMES in Marin . . . Marin families themselves because the I-J covers 2 out of 3 homes in the County.
- The I-J daily circulation in Marin County is GREATER than that of the San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner COMBINED!!
- NO WASTE — NO HIGH PRICED SPACE GOING TO NON-PRODUCTIVE AREAS.

AUTHORITY FOR ISSUANCE: Said bonds are authorized to be issued by the proceedings in said assessment district, and said assessment district was organized and consummated and bonds provided to be issued under the provisions of the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913 of the State of California and the Improvement Act of 1911 of the State of California.

LEGAL OPINION: The unqualified legal opinion of the law firm of Sturgis, Den-Dulk, Douglass & Anderson, 1322 Webster Street, Oakland, California, approving the validity of said bonds will be furnished to the successful bidder without charge.

HIGHEST BID: The bonds will be awarded to the highest bidder considering the price offered and premium offered, if any. No bid will be considered which is less than par of the bonds. All bids will also provide that accrued interest will be paid from the date of the bonds.

PROMPT AWARD: The Sanitary Board of the Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than forty-eight (48) hours after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for the receipt of proposals.

PROMPT DELIVERY: Delivery of the bonds will be made to the successful bidder at the office of the Marin County Treasurer and ex officio treasurer of Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District, located in the Civic Center, San Rafael, California, on April 15, or as soon thereafter as said bonds are ready. The successful bidder is to deposit the purchase price of said bonds within forty-eight (48) hours after notification of their readiness for delivery to them. The amount of the deposit of the successful bidder will be deducted from the purchase price of the bonds.

FORM OF BID: All bids must be for not less than all of the bonds hereby offered for sale. Each bid, together with bidder's check, must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the Sanitary Board of the Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District and endorsed, "Proposal for Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District Bonds, Tamalpais Woods Assessment District, Series 6097".

BID CHECK: With each bid must be submitted a certified check or cashier's check for $2,000.00 drawn on a bank or trust company transacting business in the State of California, payable to the order of the Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District, to secure the district from any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with the terms of his bid. Checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned by the district by mail upon the award of the bonds. No interest will be paid upon the deposit made by any successful bidder.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT: The successful bidder will be furnished with a no-litigation certificate certifying that there is no controversy or litigation pending or threatened concerning the validity of the bonds as of the time of the delivery of the bonds.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Infections Of Bladder Almost As Prevalent As Common Cold

VAN DELLEN

Infections of the bladder and renal passageways are almost as prevalent as colds and other respiratory disorders. Burning and frequency of urination are the most common manifestations. A variety of micro-organisms are responsible and the majority can be eliminated by sulfoanamides or antibiotics. Success depends upon pitting the right drug against the offending germ.

This explains why the same remedy does not work in all cases and why the culprit must be uncovered, preferably before treatment is started. Several new urinary antiseptics have been added to the list. All are welcome because microbes develop a resistance to a drug that is used for a long time or in small (token) doses. Nalidixic acid is an example. This new agent is said to be effective against most organisms responsible for urinary tract infections. It may not be better than some of the older products but will be useful when a different plan of treatment is needed.

THE MAJORITY of medicos utilize only drugs known to react against the most frequent offenders. They are likely to begin with a sulfonamide such as Gantrisin or sulfadiazine. These products are inexpensive, act rapidly, and seldom are toxic in the dose needed to sterilize. Antibiotics such as Furadantin and Tetracycline are next on the list.

Most urinary infections disappear in the same way as the ordinary throat or head cold. The physician usually suggests X-rays or the opinion of a urologist when infection persists because of the possible association with a kidney stone, tumor, or an obstruction due to an enlarged prostate or stricture.

IT IS MOST important to follow through on all urinary tract disorders. Urine should be examined periodically after treatment is stopped to make sure the condition has disappeared. We know that a low-grade simmering kidney infection may exist for many years and, unless detected early, ends in uremia and high blood pressure. The toxic effect of the inflammation saps the strength and energy of the victim.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

ONE FALLOPIAN TUBE

J. writes: When one Fallopian tube has been removed, can a woman have children of both sexes or only one sex?

REPLY

Either boys or girls, because one or the other ovary has nothing to do with the sex of the child. With one tube, the chances of becoming pregnant are reduced 50 per cent.

NO, BUT DEADLY

C.B.M. writes: Is lung cancer contagious?

REPLY

This is a remote possibility. The cause of lung cancer is not known, except that it is associated with inhalation of irritating smoke and polluted air. Many victims have a chronic bronchitis for many years preceding the malignancy.

SUIT YOURSELF

A reader writes: I have unruly hair and cannot afford to buy that gooey stuff to control it. Will using petroleum jelly be harmful?

REPLY

No. Most of the gooey stuff contains petroleum jelly, lanolin, or mineral oil.

HORSERADISH AND VINEGAR

G.H. writes: Ground horseradish mixed with vinegar is supposed to thin the blood. Is this true?

REPLY

No—alone or mixed.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Toothpaste Ads Reveal Cavities

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — I would like to offer today a few words in defense of cavities.

Cavities, I admit, are not entirely defensible, or even desirable, but at times they seem dcidedly preferable to the alternatives offered in the value structures of at least two sets of television toothpaste commercials.

In one set of these major national commercials, a young person who admits being inferior to his competitor in various respects gloats at the fact that at least he won a toothpaste test, which presumably is partial compensation for not being class valedictorian.

One must suspect that the creators of these commercials have duly taken note of the fact that, with good schools getting tougher and tougher to get into, the losers constitute a psychologically more accessible audience. Also that the winners are too smart for such blah.

I do not want to bother much with this first set of commercials except to suggest that if you are a young man or woman, and you are given the rare chance to choose between being a superior human being or winning a toothpaste test, be a superior human being.

A far more tempting set of commercials, but also a challenge to last-ditch defenders of such pleasurable sensations as taste and smell, is the group of advertisements that has pushed the idea of brushing after each meal.

It is true that these commercials, in keeping abreast of modern realism and corporate palship with the consumer, now suggest the smoother possibility of brushing whenever one can. But note that the modification here relates only to convenience, that the implication is that you really should brush after each meal if at all possible, and that being antiseptic is automatically and unquestioningly rated as a more natural state than, say, enjoying the after-taste of a good cigar.

Defenders of the pleasurable senses, arise! You have nothing to lose but a few dollars for dental care if you don't let things get out of hand. It is a worthy cause in an automated, antiseptic age.

Severe Snow Storm Hits

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A severe late-winter snow storm hammered from the Rockies into Minnesota today with blizzards in some parts of the northern Plains.

South of the winter-weather belt, tornadoes and tornadic winds lashed areas in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas, causing heavy property damage. One person was injured in Oklahoma. Heavy rain and hail pelted sections of Missouri, Arkansas and eastern Texas.

Temperatures dropped below zero in Montana, Wyoming and North Dakota and the cold air headed southward and southeastward. It was 18 below zero in Cut Bank, in northwestern Montana.

Suit Filed Over Johnson's Copter

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Winds stirred up by President Johnson's helicopter in Concord last June caused a knee injury to a bystander, it was charged in a lawsuit yesterday.

The plaintiff, Mrs. Beulah G. Johnson, is suing the government for $7,500 damages. She claims negligent operation of the helicopter caused a flying sharp object to strike her and that the wound required surgery.

Center Has Formal Rental Wear

About to make the matrimonial leap?

Have you been invited to a formal affair and lack formal attire?

Already making plans for your graduation parties or proms?

The Formal Rental Wear department of the brand - new Roos-Atkins shop in the Northgate shopping center is the answer to all those questions—and any others connected with the wearing of men's formal outfits.

You name the occasion, Roos-Atkins in Northgate has the proper style. There are white dinner jackets for spring and summer weddings, proms and parties, and grey and white stripe seersucker dinner jackets for those informal spring and summer gatherings.

For semi-formal weddings and parties Roos-Atkins can deck you out in a black tie formal, and for evening weddings, the opera, or very formal state occasions there is the white tie or full dress formal.

The cutaway, or formal daywear, is ready for your selection for those formal daytime weddings in either summer or winter, or diplomatic occasions, and for informal weddings there is the semi-formal stroller or sack coat.

Just added to the line is the newer-than-new pastel blue dinner jacket—a handsome example of the Roos-Atkins policy of staying ahead of the latest styles.

The department is completely stocked with sizes and your measurements will be meticulously recorded by the salesman in charge. There is a full choice of cummerbunds and vests and each outfit comes equipped with pleated dress shirt, studs and tie.

Perhaps you'd like to wear a lightweight straw hat with your informal dress wear. Roos-Atkins will rent you one. Perhaps you'd like to sport a cane with your full dress formal. You have merely to ask. Gloves with formal daywear? Again, the item is available under the Roos-Atkins rental system.

The whole package is delivered to you in a dust-proof bag—another mark of the Roos-Atkins attention to detail.

As an extra added convenience to those of you who may be visiting Hawaii, or going abroad to England, and will find yourselves in need of formal wear Roos-Atkins has made arrangements to see that you are properly outfitted.

Simply arm yourself with Courtesy Cards to Sato Clothiers, 1450 Ala Moana Blvd., in Honolulu, and Moss Bros. Ltd., in London, England. They will exhibit the same care Roos-Atkins provides you here at Northgate, and in their 26 other stores throughout the state.

WHITE DINNER JACKETS or white ties and full dress formal wear for men are available at Roos-Atkins' formal rental wear department. Cutaways are also stocked for formal daytime weddings, along with strollers or sack coats for informal affairs.

THE ROOS-ATKINS STORE is the first new shop to meet the eyes of Northgate visitors. Located at the head of the mall and across from the Emporium, it maintains entrances at the front, on the mall and on the west parking lot side. A fountain makes an attractive foreground setting for the store.

MEDICAL CENTER IN PROGRESS

Construction is now in progress on this $1,300,000 Northgate Medical Center at the corner of Las Gallinas Avenue and Northgate Drive. When completed, the two-story building will provide 35,000 square feet of office suites for 40 to 50 doctors and supporting services. Many leases have already been signed for space. Developers are Wherritt and Brown who have completed numerous medical buildings throughout the Bay Area.

EMPORIUM IS PACESETTER

The Emporium was the pacesetter of big business at Northgate. Now open nine months, the store's sales have exceeded business projections made on the basis of first year operations of other Emporium branch stores in the Bay Area. The two-story building contains approximately five acres of floor space and cost 2.5 million dollars.

Northgate Family Shoe Store Opens

The new Sommer and Kaufmann family shoe store opened last week in the Northgate Shopping Center reported a "tremendously successful opening."

During the opening three-day celebration the store featured name brand shoes at greatly reduced prices to emphasize that S&K, in addition to providing style and fashion leadership, also places great emphasis on value for the customers.

Store manager Art Blanchard, a veteran of many years with S&K at the 838 Market Street store in San Francisco, was extremely enthusiastic. "My family and I have lived here in Marin County for many years," he said, "and we've never seen anything like the reception we've had during this opening. It's very gratifying."

Blanchard has been in the shoe business since the time he was 12 years old—except for brief times-out for college and service in the Marine Corps. He has spent the majority of this time on the West Coast with S&K and knows Bay Area tastes and requirements in finer grade footwear.

Residents of Fairfax, Blanchard and his family are extremely happy with his assignment to the Northgate store. "This is our county," said Mrs. Blanchard, "and we wouldn't want to live anywhere else. We appreciate it so much more now that Art doesn't have to commute every day to the city."

He's Picked Up Quickly

HOMERVILLE, Ga. (AP) — A Homerville man has learned that it pays to be careful when hitchhiking.

Bubba Sharpe, jailed for disorderly conduct and fighting, escaped and was trying to thumb a ride to a different part of the state. A car stopped and picked him up.

To his chagrin, Sharpe discovered his benefactor was Police Chief Joe Lancaster of Homerville. The chief said Sharpe was returned to jail where he paid a $30 fine.

Baptists Boast Sports Program

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — One of Tampa's busiest bowling centers is the First Baptist Church, where 140 persons are involved in the bowling schedules.

The program is directed by Jimmy Lawrence, who directs such activities as basketball, volleyball, skating, gym exercises, skittle board and other games to attract members of the church and their friends.

Lawrence came to the Tampa church from a similar position at the First Baptist Church in Memphis, Tenn.

MRS. VIOLA WHITE is manager of the House of Nine's new Northgate store. Currently a commuter from Richmond, Mrs. White was formerly manager of the El Cerrito store and has also worked in the company's San Francisco and Oakland shops. She and husband Ralph, who will be working in the Northgate store of Sommer and Kaufmann, expect to move their household to Marin County.

This Tale's Far Better Than One About Grandma

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — An African storeman at Uganda's Murchison Falls game park in East Africa was late for work.

"Sorry, sir," he told Warden Roger Wheater who wanted to know why he was late on duty. Then he explained: "I was cycling home last night when I saw a cow elephant with a very young calf on the track ahead. I got off and began to push my bicycle through the bush to go around them, but I pushed it into a rhino.

"I dropped the bicycle and ran for the nearest tree, but after I'd climbed it I saw two lions below in the grass.

"So I thought it would be better to say there for the night until the lions went away — and I'm sorry I'm late for work."

He was forgiven.

This Wet Cat Hitched Ride

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Mrs. H. W. Shelton thought she heard a cat's meow coming from her car but after stopping to look for a kitty several times she couldn't find the source of the noise.

She drove some 25 miles to a friend's house and as she got out of the car there stood her family cat, Rhubarb, wet and dirty.

Rhubarb rode home inside the car and never revealed his hiding place on the car.

Yugoslavian Issue

BELGRADE (AP) — Deputy Ernest Rahten informed Parliament that Yugoslavia will have to import coal this year because of a lack of miners. Yugoslav mines are estimated to need 10,000 more miners. Two thousans quit the mines last year complaining of unsatisfactory pay.

BANK OF AMERICA MANAGER Donald C. Andresen can move this vault door at the Northgate office with a touch of a finger, but it took four men, several days work and a variety of equipment to set it in perfect balance. The bank opened its new office on Monday.

Wooden Indians Vanishing Tribe

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) — The ranks of America's wooden Indian population, once totalling 100,000, have continued to shrink until today the small number of cigar store Indians left are all collectors' items.

At auctions in recent years, three wooden Indians were sold for $2,050, $1,300 and $725 respectively at the Parke-Bemet Galleries in New York City, reports "Tobacco News," published here by The Tobacco Institute, Inc.

One Finger Opens Massive Bank Door

It took four workmen equipped with crow bars, rollers, skids, jacks, plumb lines, levels and a special fork lift to place Bank of America's 3.5-ton door in the Northgate office and hoist it in position in front of the vault.

Today, that massive door of steel and metal alloys can be swung open and shut with one finger.

The installation of a bank vault door is not only a delicate balancing feat—it is also a process which turns several standard carpentry procedures upside down.

Instead of fitting the door to a frame, the vault wall is actually tailored to the door frame, or vestibule. An opening somewhat larger than the door is left during the vault construction, and door and vestibule are positioned as a single unit with a fork lift.

Exact plumbing and leveling are required for the door to be in perfect balance. Not until then can the gap between wall and vestibule be filled with concrete.

The average Bank of America vault door costs about $6,000, is six and a half inches thick and consists of several hundred laminated layers of steel and metal alloys which together are virtually impregnable from the exterior, and heat resistant.

Boy Scout Neckerchief Goes Hunting

COATESVILLE, Pa. (AP)—The scout neckerchief, already possessed of a proud heritage of usefulness, recently was adapted for a whole new range of life-saving jobs. According to "Steel Facts," published by American Iron and Steel Institute, a scout-style triangular neckerchief—with a difference—is now recommended wearing apparel for hunters and sportsmen.

The safety department of a steel company in eastern Pennsylvania, to promote employe safety, compiled a list of emergency first-aid tips which were imprinted on highly visible yellow or red squares of cloth.

Designed to make the wearer easy to spot, the informative fabric tells what to do in case of bleeding, heart attack, shock, snake bite and poisoning. Sketches show how to apply it as a bandage, compress, sling or tourniquet.

Hernia, Belt Foes

NEW YORK (UPI) — If you have a hernia, don't use an auto seat belt, Dr. Benjamin Payson told fellow doctors at the annual clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons. He said seat belt pressure in a crash could be fatal to such persons.

Spray Looked Like A Blaze

RENO (AP) — Where there's smoke there's fire. But this time it turned out to be water.

The Nevada Division of Forestry got a report of a possible range fire in the hills southeast of Reno. When fire officials checked the report, they found a geyser of water instead.

A pipeline between Carson City and Virginia City had sprung a leak and water was spraying as much as 100 feet in the air, resembling smoke.

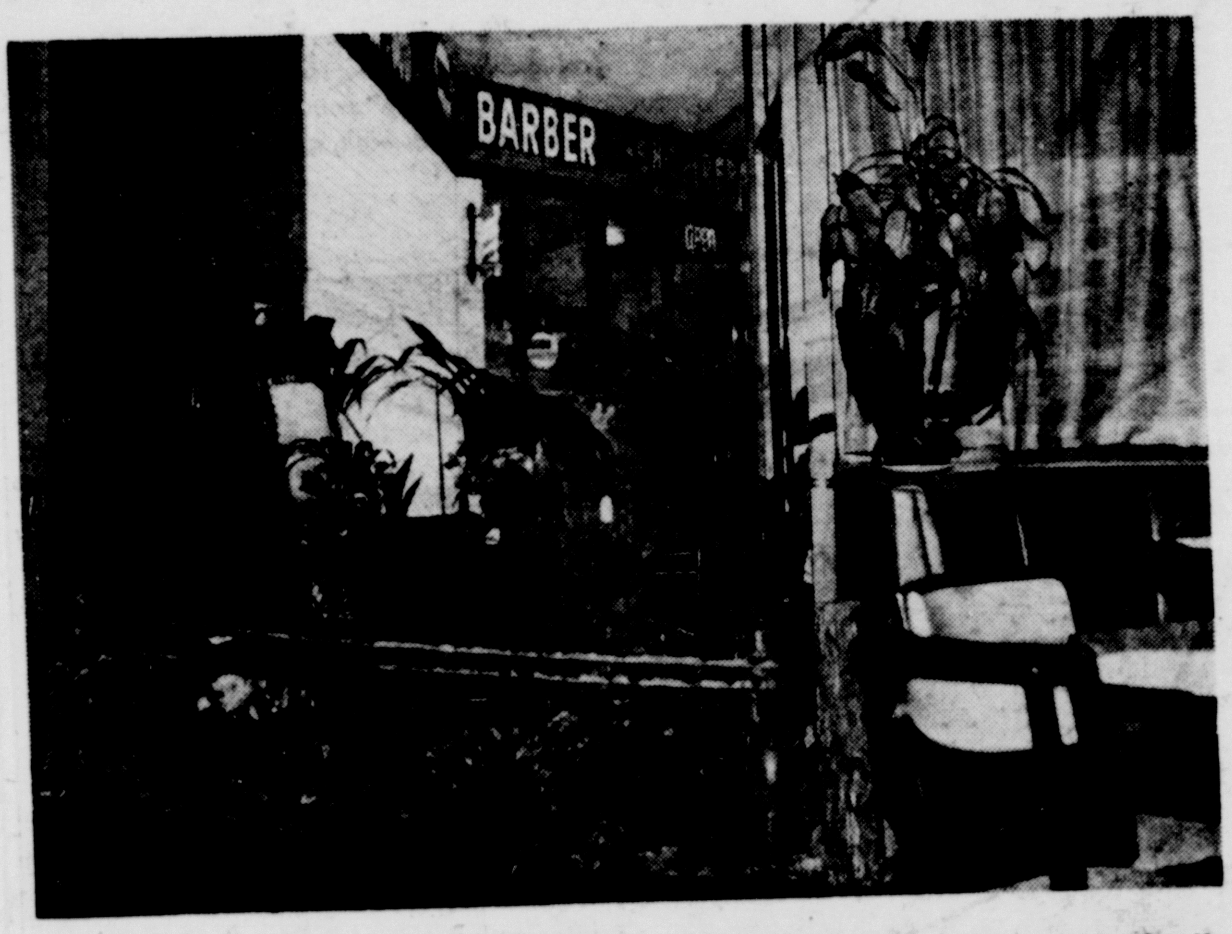
SHOPPING CENTER IN OLD DAYS

In the early years, when Montgomery Street was the shopping center and fashion promenade of San Francisco, Hastings was located in the famous Lick House at the corner of Sutter and Montgomery Streets, as shown in this photograph taken in 1886. The firm has just opened its ninth store in the Northgate Shopping Center. Others are located in Oakland, Sacramento and on the Peninsula. There are two stores in San Francisco.



ENTRANCEWAY TO LIN FA GARDENS restaurant in Northgate Unit One is over a bridgeway that crosses a goldfish pond and is bordered by plants and flowers. The restaurant, with its Polynesian-type cocktail lounge, was one of the early Northgate enterprises. It features both Chinese and American food and has a large banquet room.

Rose Is Used As Packaging Design Symbol

Identifying Modern Eve Merchandise

A rose by any other name would still be the packaging design symbol identifying merchandise purchased from Modern Eve.

Helen Gray, owner of the Marin County trio of women's wear stores in San Rafael, Novato and now in Northgate Shopping Center, has been cited for her choice of this romantic "logo" by Good Packaging Magazine.

According to the trade publication, when Mrs. Gray decided to make a change from the sedate gold and white packaging used for many years she was determined that it should be something big and bold.

After numerous conferences with designers the rose was favored as the dominant theme in a four-color effect. The rose itself is pink and white, the background is moss-green, with black added to give depth and strength.

Although Modern Eve stores use three sizes of bags no reduction of the design is made. The store name is identified in simple script, carefully woven into the design. The same moss-green that predominates in the bags and folding boxes was also selected for the full range of gift boxes.

The final touch was added when the same theme was carried into the stores' merchandise gift certificates. The certificate is wrapped around the stem of a paper rose, which is then carefully laid on a bed of cotton in the proper size box, wrapped and beribboned.

Says Mrs. Gray, "It makes a much more exciting gift than just a piece of paper in a white envelope."

Check With Restaurant At Center

If you want to find out how popular a shopping district is, check with its nearest restaurant.

Mrs. Ethel Barrie, owner of the colorful Lin Fa Gardens restaurant and its adjoining Polynesian Mai Tai Room cocktail lounge — one of the first businesses in the convenience section at Northgate Shopping Center, said her experience there has been "like seeing a town grow up all around me."

Originally there were few stores to draw Marin residents to Northgate for any extended shopping tour, and there were many days when Mrs. Barrie's tables, as immaculate as they were, saw few noontime occupants.

As other stores opened on each side of her, lunch business began to pick up, and when the Emporium opened last summer, a decided upturn in business came.

"Although the Emporium is in unit two and we are in unit one, people seemed to remember that we were nearby and they made a point of coming in for lunch—and at the same time the dinner trade increased," she said.

Another surge of customers came when the Roos-Atkins store opened last month. "But the biggest influx of newcomers visited the restaurant during last week's grand opening celebration—and they are still coming in," Mrs. Barrie noted. "From now on I don't think we will have any trouble keeping busy and the tables filled."

They Have Fun Through Name

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — There was no lack of jollity at the 37th annual convention of the Grand United Order of Pall Bearers of America, Inc.

The 8,000-member all-Negro organization started as a burial association but now retains little of that nature except the name.

Treasurer Joseph Parris said the service club now devoted itself to providing scholarships and has a 100,000 dollar fund raising project to build an old folks' home at Fort Pierce, Fla.

Only Car License Is Over Parked

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Police mailed a parking violation ticket to a junkyard for one of the weary outomobiles on its lot.

Told the car hadn't been off the lot since it was bought for junk last spring, officers decided its license tag had been stolen for use on another auto.

Always Out Of Season

ATHENS, Tenn. (AP)—Two McMinn County, Tenn., men have received 60-day jail sentences and a year's probation for shooting Smokey the Bear twice with a shotgun.

District Ranger Dinnie F. Lambert said the men shot Smokey in the face on both sides of a U. S. Forest Service sign newly installed on Tennessee Highway 68.

Smokey is the agency's fire prevention symbol.

The sign had been set up only three hours. The shots went all the way through and burst the plywood on the opposite side, Lambert said.

U. S. Commissioner H. Arnold Morgan of Chattanooga suspended the jail terms, but required the men to pay for replacing the damaged sections. The sign cost $102.

Those New Mexican Voters Consistent

CLOVIS, N. M. (AP)—Four candidates competed for two vacancies on the Clovis School Board in 1963 and 2,606 votes were cast.

Voters balloted again in February 1965 and 2,606 votes were cast.

Natives Greet Tall Thin People

LUSAKA, Zambia (AP)—Few of the Africans at Zonwe Village saw a Zambia government information film when a cinema van visited the Fort Jameson area.

The reason? The villagers, to whom cinema still has a touch of witchcraft, spent most of the filmtime behind the screen — trying to meet the people they saw on it.

Even explanations from the projector operator failed to remove their doubts that his "friends" were being standoffish.

Plans To Harness Falls Being Opposed

UGANDA (AP) — Plans to harness the Murchison Falls, on the River Nile, to a power plant are being strongly opposed by Uganda's director of national parks, F. X. Katete.

In his quarterly report, Katete claims that the world-famous falls attract large numbers of overseas visitors to Uganda. Any human interference calculated to reduce their grandeur "invites hostile criticism from all over the world," he writes.

Fashions, Style Seen At Liebes

The fashion excitement and style authority that have been the stock-in-trade of H. Liebes for 101 years now are in Marin.

Here will be found beautifully edited collections for children, young juniors, juniors, misses and women in every aspect of apparel. The spacious one-level store offers dresses, suits, coats, sportswear, furs, fashion accessories, children's wear, gifts and beauty shop in a cheerfully light and feminine atmosphere designed for shopping ease.

Northgate is the fourth store to be added to the famous H. Liebes century of operation. The San Francisco company, headquartered at Grant and Geary, has also followed the bay area population growth with stores in Westlake, Hillsdale, and Foothill Square, Oakland.

The new Northgate store will continue the famous H. Liebes policy of spicing its collections of nationally advertised brands with imports from Europe and the Orient—Paris, London, Copenhagen, Lisbon, Madrid, Milan and Hong Kong, Delhi, Tokyo, Bangkok.

The Italian knit collection is both the first and the largest of its kind in the west. Sportswear and accessory departments are ready with off-beat finds from abroad.

The Gift Shop is unusual in decorative and useful accessories for the home. From English china to Venetian glass, the collection is exclusive at H. Liebes and it is continually renewed from European markets. For gifts to present and gifts to keep it is a most fruitful browsing spot.

Also in Northgate is H. Liebes' century of tradition in fashion fur excellence—a tradition that began in 1864 when Herman Liebes arrived in San Francisco from Leipzig and set up his nine by twelve foot fur salon next to a popular miner's saloon. Fur services include remodeling, cleaning and storage.

H. Liebes also brings the convenience of a beauty salon. Head hair stylist is "Mrs. Robert", whose valued consultations will be available to the ladies of Marin for creating coiffures most flattering to them.

Designer collections and unusual discoveries in dresses, sportswear and coordinates are gathered in such popular departments as the Young Couture Shop for misses young designer fashions; the Mademoiselle Shop with junior and misses medium price dresses; the Deb Den, full of special finds for juniors and junior petites; and Career Fashions, for moderate price dresses in misses and half sizes.

Magnificent coats and suits are an H. Liebes hallmark; collections are specially culled for the Marin mode of life in beautifully crafted fabrics. They are also noteworthy for the completeness of their size ranges.

Ideas for infants and children —little boys through Toddler 4, little girls all the way—are in one convenient location. Starting out with smart little sacques, styling for every age is strong in this department — in outerwear, play wear, sportswear, coordinates and school and party clothes slanted for suburban living.

School girls to size 14 will find the pert and polished looks they love. Mothers will enjoy the convenience of whisking them over to H. Liebes Northgate after school for all their apparel needs.

H. Liebes' lingerie collection is fraught with temptations. Included are famous names and a fashion approach that takes in robes, pajamas, trousseau lingerie, briefs, shifts and other leisure time apparel.

Exclusive shoe designs—both witty and restrained—a famed collection of quality handbags, classic and off-beat ideas in gloves, drama in costume jewelry and the best of the newsy new hosiery are all in the H. Liebes accessory picture. Marin will also find an important collection of fine perfumes and beauty products.

Marital Tension Is International

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) —P. M. America sued his wife, Mrs. D. J. America, for divorce in the Cape Town Supreme Court.

Judge Hall was told that before her marriage Mrs. America's name was Miss Africa.

"This is the first time I have heard that America has lost interest in Africa," said the judge.

Mr. America was granted the divorce.

He Didn't Know Defendant But Did Know Mules

MANCHESTER, Tenn. (AP)— U. S. Dist. Judge Charles G. Neese excused Robert L. Amacher from jury duty after testimony had already begun in a whisky law violation case.

A treasury agent testified that the defendants were arrested on a narrow mountain road while riding in a wagon drawn by mules.

He introduced a picture of the mules and wagon as evidence. He said the wagon contained some moonshine whisky and still equipment.

Amacher asked to speak to the judge in private. In chambers, he told Neese that he did not know the defendants, but he knew the mules.

He said he couldn't give the men a fair trial because the mules had reputations of being involved in frequent moonshine activities.

"This is the first time I ever had to excuse a man because he knew some mules," the judge said.

Robber's Victim Has Short Cooling Off

HOUSTON (UPI) — Frank Vivian, the owner of a grocery was locked in a cooling vault during a robbery and had to squirm through a tiny glass door used by customers to reach in for serve-yourself milk.

The Houston Chronicle headlined the item, "Robbed Man Escapes By Milky Way."

SAFETY AT NORTHGATE

In an attempt to prevent accidents in Northgate, children have been requested to refrain from riding bicycles through the malls. Bicycle stands have been provided, and signs have been placed strategically throughout the shopping complex.

Manager Once Had Own Shop

Virginia Leidy, manager of Loana's new store in Northgate, was co-owner of an exclusive women's wear shop for 10 years before coming to Marin.

The business—Leidy's Country Girl—maintained stores in Walnut Creek, Concord, Sunnyvale and Woodside.

Another five years was spent managing such shops as Expectations Shops, Inc., Walnut Creek; Tweed's Women's Wear, Alameda; and the Fashion in Hayward. More time was spent with Livingston's in San Francisco.

Mrs. Leidy has recently been a resident of Hayward and is now moving to Terra Linda.

Goods Come In, Litter Comes Out

NEW YORK (AP)—Litter is a yardstick of a country's standard of living.

Keep America Beautiful reports that the U.S., with the highest standard of living, produces more rubbish than any other nation—about 1,000 pounds a year per person.

"England produces about half that much and its standard of living, as measured by gross national product, is just half that of the U.S.," according to Allen H. Seed Jr., Keep America Beautiful's executive vice president.

He explained that other less industrialized countries produce less litter, but that as nations industrialize their litter problems grow.

KAB's answer to how to combat litter is public education, strong antilittering laws and provision for adequate litter disposal facilities.

State Attorney Dignity Damped

ROCKFORD, Ill. (UPI) — Reroofing the 88-year-old county courthouse is trying the patience of Asst. State's Atty. William H. Snively who twice in a day had no recourse but to reach for bucket and mop.

Snively came to work one morning to find puddles of water on his desk and chairs and a big pool of water on the floor of his fourth floor office.

He dutifully mopped up and draped soaked legal papers over chairs to dry. He had a repeat performance in the afternoon.

Diabetics Get Along With Dry Table Wine

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)—Diabetics, who ordinarily are forbidden alcoholic beverages, can safely and often beneficially drink dry table wine, advises Dr. Laurance W. Kinsell, director of the Institute for Metabolic Research, Oakland.

Reporting in the journal "Industrial Medicine and Surgery," Dr. Kinsell said the observation is based on a long-term study of patients in a research metabolic ward. With ingestion of wine, there was no rise in blood sugar and no signs of ketosis, a serious and often dangerous complication of diabetes.

Eased Her Conscience

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—JoAnn Jarzemba walked into Mayor Fred B. Sanford's office and said, "I've got to pay the city $1 to clear my conscienece."

She explained that several years ago she had taken some loose change—"I think it was about $1"—from a pond in a city park.

"I want to pay the city back," she said. City Auditor Edwin Haywood accepted her payment, gave her a receipt—and added the dollar to the city's general fund.

Babies Should Feed Selves, Doctor Says

NEW YORK (UPI) — Encourage your child to feed himself.

Dr. Benjamin Spock, in his book, "A Baby's First Year," says that even seven-month-old children should be allowed to hold their own crackers or other food. The doctor admits babies are messy eaters, but he says it's better to let them learn while their ambition is strong.
